Coming as the climax to more than a week, during which the sweltering temperature has passed the 90 mark each day, a furious gale broke over Atlanta early Thursday night, causing heavy damage throughout the city, littering the streets with fallen trees and blocking traffic, putting 2,000 phones out of commission, and causing injuries to four persons.

The change in weather came without warning. Neither thunder nor lightning signalled its advent. The hot, dry spell had continued all day. Suddenly just after 7 o'clock the heaviest wind of the year swept the city and a downpour of rain started. Many buildings in the downtown section shook under the fury of the storm.

From all sections came reports of trees crashing into the streets. In some places traffic was blocked until city forces removed the obstacles.

Grandstand Wrecked.

Perhaps the greatest damage was done in the Hollywood road territory. In Almand park, the old grandstand, 110 feet long and capable of seating 1,000 people, was practically torn to pieces. Bits of timber and portions of corrugated iron roof were found at least 1,000 feet from the site of the stand. The new grandstand, seating 1,500, was only slightly damaged. The concession stand in the park also was wrecked.

One of the freaks of the storm was recorded at the home of J. A. Herren, 70, of Hollywood road. Mr. Herren, who has been in poor health for years and practically an invalid, his wife, his son, M. R. Herren, and two grandsons were seated on the back porch when the downpour started. The front porch of the house was lifted from its fastenings, tossed over the house and fell in the backyard, some of the heavy timbers barely missing the party assembled on the back porch.

The home of L. R. Smith also was considerably damaged, windows being knocked out and lights put out. The residence of R. P. Turner suffered the loss of a big column. Phone service was put out of commission. The loss of the Herrens is estimated at $1,000, and that of A. E. Almand at $1,500.

Considerable excitement was caused at Grady among the patients when two windows in the operating room crashed, making a noise which was heard all over the building.

Four Are Injured.

The injured are: Joe McGee, 33, of 137 Flat Shoals avenue, who suffered cuts about the head when the plastering in the house at 151 Gibson street, where he was visiting, fell. Miss Adell Stiver, living in the house, was also injured about the shoulders. Seven other people in the same room were uninjured.

C. Batchelor, of 186 Waltham avenue, street car operator, was injured about the left leg when he fell into a pit at the Piedmont avenue car stop. The storm cut the lights out.

Mrs. J. B. Murphy, of 169 Waltham avenue, suffered cuts about the hand when the window she was attempting to lower was jarred loose and fell on her arm.

LEAVE RHINELANDLast of Army of Occupation
Departing as Germans Cheer.

BY RALPH HEINZEN.

PARIS, June 26.—(UN)—French troops moved rapidly out of the Rhineland today as the last of the army of occupation broke barracks occupied for nearly 12 years and began final and complete evacuation of German soil.

A last review was held at the little Rhineland city of Landau at noon and before sunset half the remaining French forces had quit the occupied area. The rest will withdraw Saturday, completing the evacuation two days early. Next Monday, June 30, was the final day under the agreement.

On Saturday, however, General Adolph Guillaumat, in command, the last to depart, will haul down the French tricolor from the public buildings at Mayence, the French headquarters during the occupation.

The French foreign office on Monday will notify the German government that, in accordance with an engagement arranged before Germany ratified the Young plan, the French troops have definitely quit the Rhineland. And the historic occupation, last vestige of military pressure following the great war, will formally have been ended.

The Germans prepared elaborate demonstrations of joy as the French moved out. The Prussian government ordered public buildings to be decorated with the German flag on Tuesday, July 1, in celebration of the evacuation.

Postage stamps for several days will be cancelled on mail with the slogan: "Great Joy 1930."

The French high command decided as a final act to grant amnesty to all German prisoners condemned by the French military tribunals in the Rhineland—realizing the prisoners would be liberated by the Germans as their first act after the French leave, anyway.

The French likewise planned to celebrate the evacuation, and General Guillaumat will proceed to Paris immediately after quitting Mayence.

Message Is on Page 24

WASHINGTON, June 26.—(AP)—With Speaker Longworth leading the administration forces, the house today sustained President Hoover's veto of the veterans' relief measure and passed a substitute bill to provide $50,000,000 in pensions for 200,000 uncompensated World War service men.

Carrying the overwhelming house vote of 365 to 4, the new bill was sent to the senate, where quick action is planned and a move is under way to liberalize its provisions to the same basis of Spanish-American War veterans' pensions. The senate finance committee expects to approve the bill tomorrow and submit it to the senate for action.

The reorganization will become effective on July 1 when the department of justice takes over from the treasury the duty of administering the nation's dry laws.

The attorney-general said the present 27 prohibition administrative districts would be cut to 12 to correspond in some measure to the judicial circuits and the enforcement districts would be left as at present. There now are 87 in conformity with the judicial districts.

He explained that the plan would bring closer co-operation between the United States attorneys who prosecute violations and the deputy administrators who will bear the brunt of enforcement.

"Constitutional prohibition is the supreme law of the land," Mr. Mitchell said. "It being in the federal Constitution does not make it any less the law of each state. But there is no legal way of compelling state legislatures to enact enforcement statutes or to compel state authorities to aid in enforcement, just as there would be no legal way of compelling congress to enact enforcement legislation if it chose not to."

Moral obligation.

"The moral obligation to take measures to enforce the prohibition amendment rests alike on federal and state governments. The power is concurrent and therefore the duty is concurrent. These are the reasons why the co-operation between federal and state authorities to do not perform a proper share of the work, there have been and will continue to be, grave deficiencies in enforcement."

He said such conditions exist that are a matter of choice with the states. Some states enforce their liquor laws so effectively as to leave little to be done by the federal government. There is a co-operation between federal and state authorities over much of the country and some officers even in those states which have repealed their enforcement statutes give assistance to the federal authorities.

The attorney-general added that the department would endeavor to "secure that degree of law enforcement which is necessary to the public interest and the support of the federal government."

WASHINGTON, June 26.—(AP)—Demanding greater activity and effectiveness from state authorities in the enforcement of prohibition, Attorney-General Mitchell today outlined plans for a drastic reorganization of government enforcement agencies.

The reorganization will become effective on July 1 when the department of justice takes over from the treasury the duty of administering the nation's dry laws.

LIGHTNING STRIKES
CANADIAN VESSEL;
31 OF CREW KILLEDSt. Lawrence River Dredge
Torn to Bits as Bolt
Ignites Dynamite Set for Blasting.

BROCKVILLE, Ont., June 26.—(Canadian Press).—A roaring explosion caused by a flash of lightning tonight was believed to have snuffed out the lives of most of the crew of 42 of a drill boat engaged in dredging and blasting in the St. Lawrence river near here.

Eleven men were rescued. The other 31 were feared missing and were feared to be dead.

The disaster, the most serious in the history of this district, occurred so suddenly and with so little attendant excitement that occupants of summer cottages nearby knew nothing about it for some time. They thought the tremendous roar was merely another blast designed to remove shoals from the river bottom in Brockville narrows.

The vessel, which was named the J. B. King, was said to have been blown to bits by the blast. Most of the missing men were part of the night shift asleep in bunks below the water line when the flash of lightning struck. Little hope was felt here that more than one or two of them survived.

The eleven rescued were picked up by a United States coast guard boat and brought to hospitals here, where their injuries were said not to be serious.

Mrs. W. C. Walklate, who witnessed the accident from the veranda of her summer cottage about a quarter of a mile away, said she saw an explosion after a flash of lightning, saw a cloud of smoke arise from the spot where the drill boat had been at work and could then see only a few pieces of wreckage floating where the vessel, valued at $100,000, had been stationed.

Mrs. G. A. Clark, of Brooklyn, N. Y., another witness, reported similar circumstances. The boat was blown in descending and widening the Brockville narrows.

One of the night shift, G. L. Brown, of Ottawa, who was rescued, told of his narrow escape from death. He said he was sound asleep beneath the water line with his comrades when the explosion shattered the vessel. He said that he dove through a window and managed to cling to wreckage until picked up.

R. A. McNeil, foreman of the day shift, said that as soon as the explosion occurred the whole boat seemed to disappear beneath his feet and he found himself in the water, whence he was picked up a little later.

Luther Kuchenecker, superintendent of the Port of Brockville, was ashore at the time of the accident, said there was no dynamite aboard the craft. Previous reports were that there were 20 tons.

Kuchenecker said there was a possibility the lightning had struck wires connected with charges of dynamite that were already placed in position in a shoal that was being removed.

Philip La Follette

In Wisconsin Race

MADISON, Wis., June 26.—(P)—Philip LaFollette, progressive republican, today announced his candidacy for the republican nomination for governor. He is a son of the late United States Senator Robert M. LaFollette, and brother of United States Senator Robert M. LaFollette, Jr. The primary will be held September 16. He will oppose Governor Walter J. Kohler, recently endorsed for re-election by the conservative republican faction.

F. L. Norton Case
Ends in MistrialBruce Baxter Enters
Guilty Plea to Bribery
Charge and Is Fined
$250.

Reporting itself hopelessly deadlocked, six for conviction and six for acquittal, the jury trying F. L. Norton, accused of jury tampering, was discharged and a mistrial declared by Judge Virlyn B. Moore at 6:15 o'clock Thursday night, after the body had deliberated 4 hours and 35 minutes.

Howard S. Jacobs, foreman of the jury, told Judge Moore that the panel had been divided, 6 to 6, since first taking the case and that all of the jurors agreed chances for a verdict were hopeless.

Assistant Solicitor-General Ed A. Stephens, who was in court when the mistrial was declared, announced that the case would be put on the calendar for retrial at an early date. While the jury was debating the Norton case, Bruce Baxter, superintendent of the municipal garage, appeared with his lawyers and entered a plea of guilty to an indictment charging bribery and was given a fine of $250 or a changing sentence of 12 months. Baxter was given until today to pay the fine. He announced that he was resigning the garage post effective July 1.

Little hope for a verdict in the Norton case had been held since early in the afternoon. The jury took the case at 12:40 o'clock and debated the issues until 2 when its members were sent to luncheon by Judge Moore. At 5 o'clock they sent word to the court that a verdict appeared impossible but Judge Moore sent a bailiff to the deliberation room to insist that the jury to keep up its effort and try to reach an agreement.

The case went to the jury after a two-day trial. Concluding arguments were made by the defense and the prosecution. The jury was told to retire at 12:40 o'clock and debated the issues until 2 when its members were sent to luncheon by Judge Moore. At 5 o'clock they sent word to the court that a verdict appeared impossible but Judge Moore sent a bailiff to the deliberation room to insist that the jury to keep up its effort and try to reach an agreement.

Calhoun and Judge Walker demanded Norton's acquittal on the ground that he was under the influence of liquor when he visited the home of S. E. Brand, a juror in the case. Walter C. Taylor, who is alleged to have attempted to "fix" Norton, Calhoun and Judge Walker were charged with tampering with the jury. The case was continued to the next day.

The appearance of Baxter was sudden and dramatic. His case was on Judge Moore's docket for today and preparations had been made to put him on trial before a jury when his attorneys, Paul S. Etheridge and Morgan Belser, appeared and went into conference with Mr. Boykin and Mr. Howard while Judge Moore was charging the Norton jury. As soon as the Norton jury retired the prosecution read the bribery indictment against Baxter and announced that the state was ready to accept the garage superintendent's plea of guilty and recommend that he be let off with a fine.

"This indictment against Baxter charges that he aided and abetted Dr. J. E. Turner, the councilman garage committee chairman, in getting a motor car for putting a deal through council," Mr. Boykin said. "The evidence as brought out in the Turner trial shows that Baxter did not profit in any way by the transaction. He merely served his superior officer in the municipal government. We are ready to accept his plea and recommend that he be given a fine."

Judge Moore said he wanted to keep the fine low enough for Baxter to pay and said that it had been reported to him that Baxter had been under heavy expense because of illness in his family.

"I do not believe from what I have heard that Baxter was able to pay the maximum fine allowed under the law, which is $1,000," Judge Moore said.

He said the judge continued, "I am going to make the sentence a fine of $250 or 12 months on the changing."

The judge added that he would not complete the record until today in order to give Baxter a chance to raise the money and Mr. Etheridge assured him that it would be paid this morning.

Baxter then issued a statement saying that he would resign his post effective July 1.

"I am submitting my resignation at once," he said. "I shall ask that it be accepted at the next meeting of council."

NEW YORK, June 26.—(UN)—Four knights of the north Atlantic—an Australian, an Irishman, a Dutchman and a New Zealander—who set out for New York from Portmarnock, Ireland, two days ago in the monoplane Southern Cross, tonight were bedded down in two rooms at the Roosevelt hotel in the city of their destination.

Captain Charles Kingsford-Smith and his three intrepid companions set their big plane down at Roosevelt field, call port of the trans-Atlantic air line, at 6:20 p. m. E. S. T., after a flight down the Atlantic seaboard from Harbor Grace, N. F., a flight that started this morning at 4 o'clock.

Escorted by seven planes, the Southern Cross came out of the north, flying at a lofty altitude, and after passing over Roosevelt field, turned her nose down Long Island and headed for Manhattan.

The big ship, still flying high, circled the island and headed back for Roosevelt field.

With little or no fuss about it, Captain Kingsford-Smith brought the Yorker down and for a couple of hours the four fliers were teased around on the shoulders of the multitude, placed in front of hundreds of cameras and dozens of microphones.

The greeting party found a travel-stained quartet. The four men—Captain Charles Kingsford-Smith, Everett Van Dyke, co-pilot; Patrick Saul, navigator, and John W. Stange, radio operator, had been in the air 47 hours out of 71.

The landing at Harbor Grace was forced by fuel shortage after previous hours and precious gasoline had been fighting fog and headwinds. Nevertheless, the Southern Cross, sturdy old veteran of the skies, became the first plane to complete a coast-to-coast across the Atlantic, from Ireland to New York. The Bremen, whose crew of three likewise reached here, was cracked up in the forced landing on lonely Greenly island, off the Labrador coast.

The Southern Cross came almost without warning. Earlier the waiting thousands had been informed that the ship was over Valley Stream, L. I., but so many rumors had been

TALMADGE TO CHARGE COTTONSEED COMBINE

Commissioner To Testify
Mill Men Have Price Holding "Agreement."

Eugene Talmadge, state commissioner of agriculture, said Thursday that he would testify today before the federal trade commission's investigation of cottonseed mill interests that he believes the mill operators have an agreement, the tendency of which is to force down the price for raw cottonseed.

Mr. Talmadge's statement was introduced at the hearing by W. M. Hutchinson, secretary of the Georgia division of the National Cottonseed Products Association, that Mr. Talmadge had a "friendly attitude" toward the mill operators.

"I am convinced that there is a combine of one sort or another among the cottonseed crushers to lower the price of cottonseed, and I shall tell the representatives of the federal trade commission before whom I am summoned Friday as a witness," he stated.

Mr. Talmadge's opinion is based on personal observations that "there is no competition in bidding" for cottonseed and uniformity in other actions which indicate to him the presence of an agreement. "You can tell when horses are working as a team," he said.

He charged that the mill operators practically dictated the price of cottonseed; and that by refusing to exchange cottonseed meal and hulls with the farmers for cottonseed, are causing severe damage to the farmers.

The investigation continued Thursday in the federal building with Mr. Hutchinson, who had been in the witness chair Tuesday and Wednesday, a technical discussion of seed grading still on the stand. His evidence was and other matters connected with the trade.

He was succeeded by Harry Hodgson, of Athens, former president of the National Cottonseed Products Association, who told of efforts to establish methods of grading seeds. Mr. Hodgson testified that mill operators are generally losing money at the present time.

Mr. Talmadge's statement, in part, follows:

"I think that the cottonseed crushers of Georgia have been in a combine for the past two years that has fixed the price of cottonseed. There has been no competition in bidding.

"I think they have combined and are dictating the price. They are also uniformly refusing to exchange cottonseed meal and hulls to the farmers for cottonseed. This was a practice that was formerly enjoyed by the farmers of the south. Their refusal to make exchanges of meal and hulls for cottonseed has been one of the greatest damages that our farmers have been confronted with."

250 CUBAN TEACHERS WILL VISIT ATLANTA

Plans for the entertainment of 250 school teachers from Havana and other Cuban cities, who will arrive in Atlanta on July 7, will be made today at a meeting in the Chamber of Commerce building at 12:30 o'clock.

The chamber is anxious to secure 50 additional automobiles, driven by owners if possible, to take the visitors for a day around the city. Tuesday afternoon, July 8, at 2:30. Offers of cars may be telephoned to the Chamber of Commerce, Walnut 0845. Plans include a complimentary dinner to the visitors on Tuesday evening.

Mayor Gomez, of Havana, has written to request that the Cuban teachers be shown every possible courtesy and especially be given an opportunity to inspect some of the modern school buildings in Atlanta.

The teachers will make a tour of several weeks, visiting a number of American cities. They will arrive here at 5 o'clock on the afternoon of July 7 and leave on Tuesday evening at 9 o'clock. They will stay at the Biltmore hotel.

The Chamber of Commerce committee in charge of arrangements is composed of Herbert B. Kennedy, chairman; Maynard B. Smith, vice chairman; Mayor I. N. Ragsdale, Col. J. C. Woodward, Chief James L. Beavers, Harry Mitchell, Walter C. Hill, S. C. Noland, William A. Dunlap, R. D. Cole, M. H. Bradley, R. L. Hickey, A. L. Belle Isle, Miss Allie B. Mann, H. M. Callaway, T. J. Stewart and W. G. Pair Admit Effort To Burglarize Bank

C. H. Harbuck and B. J. McGee, young white men, $125 for the use of an acetylene torch last Tuesday night, have admitted that they attempted to rob the bank of Junction City, and will be transferred to the Talbot county jail to answer charges of burglarizing.

Nabbed by city detectives, who had been tipped off to their lavish rental of a torch, when they returned early Wednesday morning, the men said that they had been off to repair a still. Late on Wednesday W. A. Blythe, cashier of the bank, telephoned local police that the vault of his bank had been wrecked.

Detectives Thursday charged Harbuck and McGee with the crime, and they at first denied it, as they were being taken to the third floor at police headquarters for finger-printing, police stated, Harbuck broke down and confessed.

$1,753,134.52 ROAD WORK IS AWARDED

State Highway Commission
Makes One of Its Largest Contract Lettings.

The state highway commission made one of its largest awards of contracts of the current year Thursday, the low bids on eleven projects amounting to $1,753,134.52.

This figure, while high as compared with other lettings this year, was several thousand dollars under estimates of the highway engineering department. Exactly 101 bids were received, from road builders in all parts of the south.

The largest contract was for 16 miles of concrete paving between Swainsboro and Statesboro, in Bulloch, the Campbell Construction Company, of Columbus, being the low bidder with $354,850.56.

Next on the list came the 10 miles of concrete between Gainesville and Baldwin, in North Georgia, Habersham and Hall counties, awarded to the Carolina Construction Company, of Columbia, S. C., for $267,024.36.

The Wesco Company, of Chattanooga, bid $232,224.98 on the 13 miles of concrete to be built between Perry and Hawkinsville, in Houston county, and was awarded the contract, although the federal road authorities must yet approve the project. A bituminous surface of limestone is also considered for this strip of road, but the bid was received as of concrete.

Other low bidders and projects were as follows:

Nine miles of alternate types paving between Winder and Jefferson, in Barrow and Jackson counties, to MacDougald Construction Company, of Atlanta, for $228,771.38.

One bridge on Winder Jefferson highway, to D. B. Schot & Company, Decatur, $18,745.00.

One bridge between Athens and Watkinsville, Clarke-Oconee counties, to Beckham-Lawler Company, Perry, for $29,863.00.

Seven miles of concrete paving between Atlanta and Austell, in Cobb county, to Whitley Construction Company, LaGrange, for $164,153.94.

Seven miles of grading and one bridge between Thomasville and Tallahassee, in Grady county, to Pittman Construction Company, Atlanta, for $40,954.06.

Five-tenths of a mile of surface treatment on Imerock between Macon and Perry, in Houston county, to Campbell Construction Company, Columbus, for $19,163.09.

Valdosta-Waycross Road.
Fourteen miles of surface treatment on Imerock between Valdosta and Waycross, in Lowndes county, to Duval Engineering & Construction Company, Jacksonville, Fla., for $213,981.56.

Six miles of concrete paving between Griffin and Zebulon, in Pike county, to Noonan Construction Company, Pensacola, Fla., for $153,814.80.

The bidding as a whole was extremely close, there being only about $20 difference in the second low on the Bulloch county project. The bids were received in the supreme court chambers because both the senate and house chambers were in the hands of renovators.

Thurman's bids brought the total 1930 building program to more than $10,000,000, according to figures released by the state highway engineers.

Insect-Infested Homes Have Most Illness

Authorities Waging Big Clean-Up Campaign
—Advise Using Kill-Ko

KILLS FLIES, MOSQUITOES, ANTS, MOTHS
AND ROACHES

Multiplying at an almost unbelievable rate, living and feeding upon filth, insects spread all kinds of dangerous disease. Authorities recognizing the merit of Kill-Ko are urging everyone to use its deadly gas in stamping out insects, to clean up homes and public buildings, thereby removing the cause of so much illness. Kill-Ko does what dusts, powders and sticky papers cannot do. It sends off a powerful death-dealing gas that kills all insect life—and yet it is absolutely harmless to humans, beasts, fowls, furniture or fabrics. Flies and mosquitoes fall in agony as Kill-Ko snuffs out their lives. It penetrates every nook and corner, killing the young, leaving no new crop to take the place of others. Kill-Ko has been used for years. It is approved and preferred by many health authorities. You, too, will like it better than anything you have ever used. Get Rigo's Kill-Ko from your drugist or grocer—in the blue bottles only. Two sizes, 50c and 75c. You will find nothing else more effective.—(adv.)

Bond of Communist Reduced by Judge

Bond for Gilder Brady, negro, one of six communists indicted under a capital offense section of the penal code for attempting to incite insurrection, Thursday was reduced by Judge Virgil B. Moore, of Fulton superior court, from $4,000 to $3,000. Oliver C. Hancock, attorney for the communists, said that he expects to provide bond for Brady and the other defendants immediately. Miss Ann Burlack, a defendant in the case, recently put up a $5,000 cash bond.

Board of Education Holds Meeting Today

Members of the Atlanta board of education will hold a special session beginning at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the city hall to pass on arbitration of the Wager contracts for the last of the schools to be constructed from the $2,700,000 school construction program. Raymond R. Ritchie, assistant superintendent of schools in charge of business affairs, announced Thursday that only about $200 will remain in the entire fund after the liabilities of the board are retired.

FAMILY ROW LANDS THREE IN HOSPITAL

PENSACOLA, Fla., June 26.—(AP) Three persons were in Pensacola hospital today with bullet wounds received during a family row shortly before noon. The injured are Lucius Harper, 35; W. A. Waters, 61, and Stillman Waters, 18. Harper was shot above the heart, the elder Waters in the back and the younger in the thigh. According to the story told police by J. T. Harper, 22, brother of the wounded man, Lucius Harper had gone to the Waters home to see his child, whose mother—Harper's divorced wife—is Waters' daughter. As the Harpers were leaving, the elder Waters threatened Lucius with a pistol, J. T. said. When Lucius tried to take the pistol from him Waters fired. In the scuffle, so J. T. said, Waters and his son were wounded.

Locusts Halt Train

VIENNA, June 26.—(AP)—Thousands of locusts settled today on the railroad tracks in the vicinity of Wieser, Austria, holding up two trains until a fire hose could be obtained and the track sprinkled with a mixture of benzene which was set afire. The trains then were compelled to proceed with caution.

Rose Fights Confirmation Of Dunning as G. O. P. Head

Local Collector Addresses Protests to Administration Leaders—Dunning Confident of Victory.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—(Special)

—Spirited protests against any action of the Hoover administration looking to the confirmation of M. O. Dunning, of Savannah, as republican national committeeman from Georgia, or the recognition of the Dunning-Arnold forces as the official party organization of the state, have been sent to Washington by Collector of Internal Revenue Josiah T. Rose, of Atlanta, leader of the opposition faction, it became known here today.

Collector Rose is said to have addressed a number of such protests to administration officials since the arrival here Monday of a delegation of anti-Rose leaders, headed by Mr. Dunning and J. W. Arnold, of Athens, chairman of the new state central committee set up by the latter group at the April 19 convention at Atlanta.

Members of the Dunning-Arnold group were scheduled to hold a conference today with Claudius H. Huston, chairman of the republican national committee, but Mr. Huston was delayed in returning to Washington from New York. He is due back in the city tomorrow and the conference will take place then, it was said.

The national chairman will be given a full report on the muddled Georgia republican situation and be asked to recognize Mr. Dunning as the official head of the party in the state, subject to confirmation when the national committee meets next.

Mr. Dunning, who is collector of customs at Savannah, said today he had no doubt that the administration and national committee would recognize his faction in due time. Members of the group, he asserted, are not demanding immediate credentials, but are here to lay the case before the administration with the statement that no harmony program can be worked out with leaders of the Rose faction. Administration officials have been informed that the recent state convention, which ended in riotous scenes with two committees established, forced an indication of the attitude of the attending delegates.

FORMER G. O. P. LEADER DIES AT AGE OF 64

ARMONK, N. Y., June 26.—(AP)—William Barnes, politician and publisher who ruled the destinies of the republican party in Albany for 25 years, died at his home here yesterday of pneumonia. He was 64 years old.

He was a member of the republican committee from 1892 to 1914 and served as chairman during the last three of those years. From 1912 to 1918 he was a member of the republican national committee.

A year after he left college he became owner of the Albany Evening Journal, which had been founded by his maternal grandfather, Thurlow Weed. He sold the paper in 1925.

Four years after he became a member of the republican state committee he was in control of the party in Albany county, a power which he extended until he occupied a place of tremendous influence in state and national republican politics. His rule in Albany was ended by a democratic victory in 1921.

In the campaign of 1912, Mr. Roosevelt issued a statement in which he referred to Barnes as a "corrupt leader." Barnes brought suit for libel. The trial which was conducted in Syracuse ended in a verdict for Mr. Roosevelt.

During Barnes' regime he became known as a man with a genius for political organization and as a despot who brooked no questioning of his power. He elevated unknowns to office over night and banished others from the political stage as quickly as they displeased him.

He is survived by two sons of his first marriage, Thurlow Weed and Landon Barnes. He and his first wife, who was Grace Davis of Cincinnati, Ohio, were divorced in 1922. She now lives in Nantucket, Mass. In 1923 he married Mrs. Maude Fiero Battershall, who died a year ago.

Two Children Hurt In Auto Accident

Two children narrowly escaped death and suffered slight injuries shortly after 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon when a grocery truck is said to have struck them on the sidewalk, where they were standing, after the driver of the vehicle had swerved his machine in a successful effort to avoid striking a little girl who was crossing the street at the intersection of Highland and Lanier avenues.

The truck, said to be the property of T. D. Gibbs, a grocer of 426 Newport street, is alleged to have been driven by Ralph Shirley. The two children who were injured were standing near a fire plug while waiting for a street car. A boy, Wilbert Sullivan, 11, son of A. G. Sullivan, of the Postal Telegraph Company, residing at 1029 Reeder circle, Morningside, was caught between the radiator of the truck and the fire plug. Both of his legs were injured and he was admitted to Georgia Baptist hospital for treatment.

With the impact of the collision with the fire plug, the radiator of the machine was broken and a stream of scalding water was thrown on the second child, Ruth Currie, 10, of Birmingham. Her foot was severely burned, and she was treated at the Sullivan home, where she is visiting. Mr. Sullivan reported the accident at police headquarters but requested that no case be made against the driver or the owner of the truck.

Mrs. Martha Mangum, Sheriff's Widow, Dies

Mrs. Martha Duke Mangum, 77, widow of C. W. Mangum, former sheriff of Fulton county, and the oldest surviving member of St. Paul's Methodist church, died at her residence, 942 Highland View, N. E., Thursday morning after an extended illness.

Her husband, who died eight years ago, was sheriff of Fulton county from 1909 until 1916. She was born in Palmetto in 1853 but moved to Atlanta after her marriage. Surviving her are a daughter, Mrs. E. C. Gibbs, of Longview, Texas; five sons, Wheeler and J. O. Mangum, of Atlanta; L. B. Mangum, of Dallas, Texas; Captain R. G. Mangum, of the U. S. army, and J. E. Mangum, of Washington, D. C., and a brother, E. G. Duke, of Palmetto.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later by H. M. Patterson & Son.

No Beer, Bride's Father Starts Tribal War

CAPETOWN, South Africa, June 26.—(AP)—Because the father of the bride was not offered beer by her fiancé's family, according to a native custom, when he called to make final arrangements for her marriage, a tribal battle occurred in the Valley of a Thousand Hills, near Natal, in which a thousand natives participated.

Two were killed by assegais and many were wounded. The bride, of the Mapepeteni tribe, was married to a man of the Nyuswa. But the bride's trousseau apparently was not ready and the wedding was postponed until Monday.

Her father finally visited the bridegroom's home, where the overnight occurred. He took their failure as a great insult and left in anger. He started a war dance with his own tribe and the battle occurred on the same day.

Holiday Resolution Approved by Mayor

Mayor L. N. Ragsdale Thursday signed a councilmanic resolution approving a half-holiday Saturday, July 5, for all city employees who can be spared from their duties. The paper was passed Wednesday afternoon at a special meeting of council by unanimous vote and means that when the city hall closes at 5 o'clock next Thursday, July 4, it will not be reopened again until 8 o'clock Monday morning, July 5.

Moslems Must Prove Wailing Wall Title

JERUSALEM, June 26.—(AP)—The wailing wall commission will ask the Moslems to prove their exact title to the wall and to the surrounding buildings, it was announced today by Chairman Emil Loeftgren. The commission thanked the Jews for "the interesting memorandum" on the historical connection of the Jews with the wall, submitted yesterday. In order to read it the commission held no afternoon session yesterday.

Chairman Loeftgren said he observed the Jews did not claim ownership to the wall, yet absolute property laws are not applicable to holy places, he declared, "over which the fiercest battles are always fought."

Dr. Mordecai Eliash, chief of the Jewish council, explained the Jews do not intend to dispute Moslem property rights but they consider ownership does not entitle the owners to rebuild or alter the structure.

Nine Cities Seek Disabled Veterans

NEW ORLEANS, June 26.—(AP)—The fight between numerous cities for the next year's meeting of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War today reached the tense stage, with opinion of delegates attending the 1930 convention here to a large extent divided as to which city would be successful.

Leading contenders for next year's convention are Cincinnati, Wilkes-Barre, Pa., runner-up last year; Providence, R. I.; Toronto, Canada; Birmingham, Ala.; Philadelphia, Portland, Ore.; St. Paul, Minn., and St. Petersburg, Fla.

The campaign for national commanders of the disabled veterans tonight had narrowed to four. Those four are Richard O'Neil, New York; Captain Herman H. Weiner, Chicago; H. C. Ridgway, Chicago, and Quintus E. Camp, Gulfport, Miss.

Stops Pain Without Deadening Nerves

Of course you want immediate relief from pain, but why use strong drugs that deaden your nerves? Capudine relieves headaches, neuralgia, etc., just as quickly and soothes the nerves.

Capudine acts at once because it is liquid. Solid remedies are slower; your system must first dissolve before absorbing them.

When in pain take two teaspoonfuls of Capudine in water. You will be delighted with the speedy relief. Thousands keep a bottle of Capudine at hand at home and at their place of business. Why not follow this wise example and avoid suffering? All drug stores in single doses, and 10c, 30c and 50c bottles.—(adv.)

OLD VARIETY FAVORITE DIES AT FLORIDA HOME

PALATKA, Fla., June 26.—(P)—Helen Sloan, well known as a vaudeville actress and singer in the late 90s, died here yesterday after an illness of a year. She was born Helen Brudenburg, of Fort Wayne, Ind., and married Harry A. Ritter, of Richmond, Ind., at the height of her career. In 1900, following his death she became Mrs. Louis Kalbfeld. They came here 25 years ago and operated hotels and theaters. Two sons and a daughter survive.

HAGE AND HAGE—A FINER DRY PALE GINGER ALE

A BETTER GINGER ALE CANNOT BE MADE

If you paid a dollar a bottle for ginger ale you couldn't get a finer mellow ale than Hage and Hage. This famous dry pale ginger ale is made from an old Scotch blend and it is delicious both as a drink and as a mixer. Hage and Hage is so good and so cheap the Scotch smile when they buy it.

Hage and Hage is packed in convenient cartons of six bottles (splits), sold everywhere. It is also put up in pints which are sold exclusively by the better drug stores.

Value really began to live up to Webster's definition of the word, when Palm Beach came to town.

A Palm Beach Suit will outwear many a suit that costs twice its price. It can be tubbed every washday of summer, without losing its freshness. Yet, because it is woven to shed dust and soil, it needs less washing than any other "tub" suit.

It stays pressed, because shapeliness is one of its great secrets... not the greatest... for that lies in its incomparable comfort and coolness.

Here, then, is a suit that gives you more and costs you less—that fits the modern trend to lighter clothes as it fits your purse and your person.

For the first time, it is being shown in marvelous tweedy effects and new weaves... In patterns freshly fashionable—in dark shades for the night, and light tones for daytime wear.

It's your money's most... so why pay more? At your clothier's... now. And in Knickers, too.

Ministers Promise DePriest Protection

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., June 26.—(P)—Commission President J. M. Jones, Jr., today wired the Ministers' Interdenominational Alliance of Washington and vicinity that Oscar DePriest, Illinois negro congressman, will be given the same protection as any other citizen if he visits Birmingham.

A message from the ministers' organization asking protection for DePriest and signed by the Rev. R. W. Brooks, president, and the Rev. R. A. Fairley, secretary, had been received by Birmingham's mayor.

The message followed on the heels of a telegram sent the negro representative warning him to stay away from Birmingham and signed "Knights of the Ku Klux Klan."

High officials of the Klan here yesterday denied the warning was authorized by the state grand dragon's office but that it may have been sent by a small group of Birmingham Klansmen, acting independently.

The telegram warning DePriest away from Birmingham, protested against his appearance here July 17, when he is scheduled to address a meeting of negroes.

AIR VIEWS AT CANDLER FIELD

Gene Hinton

Believing that the hesitancy with which Atlanta aviation fans climb into Candler Field airplanes for Sunday passenger hops is inspired by "price" rather than "fear," three commercial operators at the local airport—Blevins Aircraft Corporation, Curtiss-Wright Flying Service and Gulf Coast Airways, Inc.—have agreed that on the forthcoming Sabbath passengers will be carried aloft at the flat rate of $1.50 a head. They do not intimate that this very advantageous rate will be permanent, declaring that it will be in effect for one day only just to give the public a "break."

Curtiss-Wright, though it will carry passengers in its Challenger Robin for $1.50, will have its "penny-a-pound" scheme in effect for its six-place Travel Air monoplane. Two weeks ago Curtiss-Wright carried all its passengers on the Gulf Coast was hauling them for $1 apiece, and both reported a big day.

In addition to the routine flying activities Sunday—and there should be plenty of it—a balloon-busting contest, to be participated in by the three passenger-hauling operators, will be put on for the entertainment of the fans. Blevins or E. W. Hightower, in a "Model F" Waco, will represent the Blevins Aircraft Corporation; Hubert or Joe Duckworth, in a Warner Command-Air, will carry the Curtiss-Wright colors, and Frank Batill, probably in a Mailwing, will do the hustling for Gulf Coast. Each pilot is scheduled to destroy three of the elusive balloons, but no cash prize as yet have been hung up for the victor.

An air mail letter, formally inviting Governor L. G. Hardman to the 1936 national air races, to be held in Chicago August 28-September 1, will be received in Atlanta Saturday for presentation at the statehouse, it was announced Thursday by Henderson Hallman, governor for Georgia of the National Aeronautic Association, under whose auspices the Chicago event will be held. Governor Hardman will not be in the city Saturday and formal acceptance of the mission will be made by some high state official, it was said, with Mr. Hallman, Edwin K. Large, Atlanta postmaster, and local aviation leaders in attendance at the ceremony. The letter, which will be huge in size, similar to an invitation to the races which was sent to President Hoover last year, is to come from Clifford W. Henderson, general manager of the 1936 national air races. Although Governor Hardman has evinced some interest in aviation, particularly during the All-Georgia Air Tour of last year, it is not known whether he will accept—even if executive duties permit—the invitation to the big Chicago event.

On a coast-to-coast demonstration flight which will carry him to the principal airports in all sections of the country, E. W. Whiting arrived at Candler field Thursday afternoon in an unusual experimental job, designed and built by Doug and Reed, of Los Angeles. The trim ship, a single-seater, which embodies a number of new and unusual features, is equipped with a Menasco Pirate, an inverted, four-in-line air-cooled engine of 95 horsepower. The new job, a biplane, has a span of 27 feet and an over-all length of 19 feet and its manufacturers claim for it a high speed of 120 miles an hour and a cruising speed of 90. Whiting, who is scheduled to take off for the north today, reached Atlanta by the southern transcontinental route, stopping at many Texas points and at New Orleans and Birmingham along the way. He stored his ship for the night with Curtiss-Wright.

A new Lycoming-powered Stinson Junior soon will be delivered to John C. Ferenbach, flying traveling salesman. It was announced Thursday by Beebe Blevins, of the Blevins Aircraft Corporation, Stinson distributors in this territory. Blevins flew to Chattanooga, picked up Ferenbach and flew him to Columbia, Tenn., where the salesman had some business to look after. He was so impressed by the plane's performance and by the many advantages to be derived from traveling by air that he signed on the proverbial dotted line without much ado. Ferenbach travels the south for the Ferenbach silk mills, of New York, and is a capable pilot. Blevins reported.

The Blevins Aircraft Corporation also announced that James Clayton, well-known Columbus flyer, had been appointed as Waco dealer for the company. Clayton, a transport pilot, has been flying around Columbus for years and is widely known throughout the state.

Richard L. Hull, sales manager for the local base of the Curtiss-Wright Flying Service, Thursday experienced the thrill he has been describing to prospective students when he successfully negotiated his initial solo flight. Dick, who has had less than four hours of "official" dual instruction, took the company's fledgling aloft after a final check by Hubert Duckworth, chief pilot, and made two perfect landings before he taxied in. His immediate objective is a private pilot's license, he stated yesterday.

The furious rain and windstorm which shattered windows, shredded awnings and put telephones out of commission in Atlanta early Thursday night, interrupted mail service on the Greensboro-Atlanta leg of Eastern Transportation New York air mail line, it was stated in press dispatches last night. Most of the beacons between Richmond and Greensboro and the lights at the latter airport were darkened by the storm but this did not stop Johnny Kyle, E. A. T. pilot, from flying in abysmal darkness between the two points. In spite of the dark airway, Johnny followed his course perfectly and landed without mishap on the unlighted Greensboro field, it was stated. Officials declared that air mail service for the rest of the night would be discontinued unless the trouble could be located and the damage repaired.

The best traditions of the army flying corps have been upheld by Second Lieutenant C. W. Feldman, but his own life is the price his valor may cost him. Taking off with other members of his squadron from Curtiss airport, Wednesday night, Feldman's plane was caught in the "wash" from the plane ahead and went out of control. Alone in the air he might have righted it; but there was a plane close on either side of him. Quickly he "winged over," and crashed 50 feet to the ground. His skull was fractured and he was injured internally so that he may die. The plane was demolished. His quick action, however, prevented disaster to the other two planes. Feldman's home station is Selfridge field, Mt. Clemens, Mich.

ELEVEN SENTENCED FOR INDIAN AGITATION

BOMBAY, June 26.—(P)—The government bore down on India's nationalists today for their civil disobedience activities, sentencing six men and five women to prison.

Four women rated as prominent—Urmila Devi, Binai Prativa, Devi, Jyotirmayee Ganguly and Mohini Devi—were sentenced to six months simple imprisonment at Calcutta for their part in demonstrations connected with the anniversary of the death of C. R. Das, brother of Urmila Devi. Women nationalist volunteers besieged the courtroom while the trial was in progress.

Another report said a 16-year-old girl had been imprisoned in Bengal for six months after conviction on a charge of publishing a book calculated to undermine the loyalty of the police.

Padamraj Jain and Madhabhai Mirza, secretaries of the provincial Hindu Sabha and Burabazar congress committees, respectively, were tried in Calcutta at the same time as the four prominent women. They were sentenced to six months rigorous imprisonment each.

Other men sentenced were Perushottamdas Tandon, "the dictator" of the civil disobedience movement in the United Provinces; Shiva Prasad Gupta, treasurer of the all-India congress committee, and Narendra Deva, general secretary of the provincial congress committee. They were tried at Menares and each was given three months rigorous imprisonment.

Another prominent nationalist, was released, however, Vallabhai Patel, brother of V. J. Patel, resigned speaker of the Indian legislative assembly, finished his term at Sabarmathi jail pronounced three months ago—the beginning of the Mahatma Gandhi movement—and went to Ahmadabad. He is one of the Mahatma's most prominent assistants.

At Ahmadabad Gandhi's weekly, Young India, and a vernacular daily called Navjivan were called upon to deposit 2,000 rupees as surety against the publication of seditious utterances under the press ordinance.

Capone Perjury Case Set for Trial July 8.

MIAMI, Fla., June 26.—(P)—Four charges of perjury pending against Al Capone were set for trial July 8 in criminal court this morning. Capone will be arraigned June 30 to plead.

The charges were preferred against the gangster ten days ago on information filed by County Solicitor George McCaskill. The charges arose from Capone testimony in a false arrest case, his attorneys preferred against Director of Public Safety S. D. McCreary, of Miami, which was later dismissed by Justice of the Peace Warren L. Newcomb.

Capone altered some of his testimony after the charges were preferred, and said on the witness stand, on his second appearance, that other testimony on which the charges were based was true to the best of his knowledge, but that he would not swear to it.

He is at liberty on $14,000 surety bond pending arraignment.

Dixie Boosters Close Convention at Miami

MIAMI, Fla., June 26.—(P)—Election of E. W. Argo, Nashville, Tenn., as chairman of the executive committee, and selection of Nashville as the 1937 convention city marked closing sessions today of the sixth annual convention of Dixie Boosters here. The organization includes members of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and auxiliaries in southern states.

Election of Argo was made unanimous after the name of D. F. Aaron, also of Nashville, had been proposed and withdrawn.

Other officers of the executive committee, which controls activities of the order, as elected today were: E. W. Hagan, Nashville, vice chairman; Miss Minnie Frye, Chattanooga, secretary and treasurer, re-elected; R. E. West, Frankfort, Ky., and Mrs. L. L. Fipod, Savannah, Ga., re-elected.

Many of the 900 delegates to the convention will entrain tomorrow morning for Key West, en route to Havana for a short visit.

Camps in Georgia Lure Young People

A party of approximately 80 boys and girls from Texas and Louisiana are scheduled to arrive in Atlanta this morning, where they will be joined by a large group of boys and girls of Atlanta and nearby sections. The entire group will go by special train to Camp Wiley and Camp Dixie, in North Georgia—the former camp being for boys and the latter for the girls.

The two camps are conducted by Professor A. A. Jameson, of Atlanta, and have won widespread popularity, according to F. L. Nelson, district passenger agent of the Atlanta and West Point Railroad, over whose route the Texas and Louisiana group will reach this city.

Home Beautiful Exhibits Continue Drawing Crowds

Two Avondale Houses Attract Much Attention as End of Display Draws Near.

Passing the good word along is woman's custom.

And the ever-increasing crowds flocking to Avondale Estates to inspect the Home Beautiful exhibit being presented by The Atlanta Constitution in co-operation with a number of the city's leading merchants and business establishments will bear witness to that fact.

Two houses are included in the exhibit. One is a Tudor English residence located at No. 2 Clarendon place, and the other is a Spanish dwelling at 32 Dartmouth avenue. Both represent all that is to be desired in modern home construction and combine comfort and convenience with beauty and attractiveness.

Not only are feminine connoisseurs of artistic furniture and house design telling their friends of the domestic dreams to be viewed in these residences, but frequently in company with the many new faces making the tour of the houses can be seen scores of friends and neighbors through the homes. They display as much eagerness the second and third times as they did on the first.

Each day is bringing home-loving Atlantans to the exhibit in unsurpassed numbers—new faces, old faces, to learn all possible in making home life attractive.

While, as was the case earlier in the exhibit, young and middle-aged women make up the larger part of the incessant stream of visitors, men are plentiful. Discriminating judgment on the part of both sexes is easily apparent, and experienced designers of house furnishings could learn much from the remarks dropped by the home visitors.

Among the guests, housewives and businessmen seem to take the greatest interest in examining the well-planned layouts from the point of view of comfort and utility, but other visitors have been greatly amused often at the remarks of the unmarried women and children, who seemed to be "transported to the heights of untold ecstasy" by the domestic treasures presented in The Constitution's exhibit.

Co-operating with The Constitution in staging the exhibit are: Rich's, Inc., which supplied the furniture and draperies, installed under the supervision of W. Phillip Brown, interior decorator for the store; Frigidaire Sales Corporation, Frigidaire; Georgia Power Company, electric ranges and appliances; Binder's, pictures and pottery; Phillips & Crew, baby grand piano; Holland Furnace Company, heating plant; and Grant-Harris-Bipney Company, Ford town sedan and Ford sport coupe.

Only a short time remains for inspecting the exhibit. It has been in progress since Sunday, June 22, and will close next Sunday night. The houses are open daily from 1 o'clock in the afternoon until 10:30 o'clock at night.

LIFE UNDERWRITERS HEADED BY ED BRAY

Ed Bray, representative supervisor of the Equitable Life Insurance Company, was elected president of the Atlanta Association of Life Underwriters at the annual meeting held Thursday in the Georgian ballroom of the Henry Grady hotel.

A. W. Jackson, general agent of the Southern States Life Insurance Company, was chosen vice president, and W. W. Bateman, of the Equitable company, was elected secretary-treasurer. The following executive committee was appointed: H. M. Willet, S. M. Carson, R. L. Cooney, Oscar Palmour, R. J. Guinn and Thomas H. Daniels.

More than 125 members attended the gathering, which was featured by an address of Wade H. Heady, of New York, field instructor of Equitable, who spoke on the investment value of life insurance. Lawrence Willet, the retiring president, was presented with a handsome desk service. Frank Joyner, retiring secretary-treasurer, delivered reports of the various committees.

The meeting was held with a luncheon. Announcement was made that all monthly meetings of the association would be suspended until October.

Two War Mothers Believed Saved By New Blood

PARIS, June 26.—(P)—Blood transfusion, resorted to yesterday at the American hospital, was believed today to have saved the lives of two American gold star mothers who are confined there ill.

The first to undergo the operation was Mrs. Edwin Lange, of Oshkosh, Wis., gold star mother who was landed in France aboard a stretcher from the steamship President Harding Sunday and was brought directly to the hospital here.

A young French medical student was called upon during the afternoon under the usual arrangements for such to give his blood. Her condition immediately improved, although it was said by the doctors today to be still possibly dangerous.

The other transfusion case was that of Mrs. Annie Raymond, of Riverside, R. I., who was taken to the hospital Saturday when she returned from a tour of the cemetery where she visited her son's grave. The doctors said she was suffering from chronic intestinal disease, but that her condition today was improving.

Georgia May Claim Lost Bank Accounts

Alf Traylor, Richmond county representative in the state legislature, said Thursday that he would introduce a bill at the next legislature providing for the state to take title to unclaimed balances remaining in Georgia banks.

Mr. Traylor said that there are thousands of dollars on deposit in Georgia banks which have been carried forward on the books for years. The banks, it was said, would be only too glad to be rid of these lost accounts, and the gross aggregate of the funds paid over to the state would materially augment its revenues.

He said that he had submitted the plan to Governor L. G. Hardman and that the governor had been impressed with it.

COLUMBUS ELECTRIC MERGER IS EFFECTIVE

87 Cities in Southwestern Portion Now Served by Georgia Power.

Eighty-seven cities and towns of southwest Georgia Thursday passed from electric service by the Columbus Electric & Power Company to service by the Georgia Power Company when a recently announced merger between the two companies became effective.

The operation of all properties will continue under the name of the Georgia Power Company, with the personnel much the same, it was announced. R. M. Harding, vice president and manager of the Columbus company, will remain as division manager, having under his supervision not only the territory which was embraced within the system of the Columbus company, but electrical properties in seven other counties.

The merger agreement provides for the continued direction of the Georgia Power Company under the present board, together with an advisory committee of four members from the board of directors of the Columbus Electric & Power Company. The four are: W. E. Bradley, chairman of the board; B. F. Gordon, John F. Flournoy and F. U. Garrard.

In addition to supplying electric power to 87 communities, the Columbus company, either directly or through a subsidiary, the South Georgia Power Company, which also be-

Dixie Boosters Choose Nashville for '31 Meet

MIAMI, Fla., June 26.—(P)—Dixie boosters closed their sixth annual convention here today with the election of E. W. Argo, Nashville, Tenn., as chairman of the executive committee and with selection of the new executive's home town as the 1931 convention city.

The organization is composed of members of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and auxiliaries of southeastern states.

E. W. Argo, Nashville, was elected vice chairman of the committee; Miss Minnie Frye, Chattanooga, Tenn., secretary and treasurer; R. E. West, Frankfort, Ky., and Mrs. L. Flood, Savannah, Ga., committee members.

A number of the 90 delegates to the convention will leave Friday morning for Key West, en route to Havana for several days' visit.

Senator Smoot Denies Marriage Rumors

CHICAGO, June 26.—(P)—Senator Smoot, Utah, today denied from Washington that he was on his way to Salt Lake City to be married. The senator said: "I haven't asked any woman to marry me. When I am contemplating matrimony I shall be only too glad to tell the world."

TO REOPEN FORSYTH VIADUCT ON SATURDAY

Official Program, of Simple Character, To Be Held at 10 A. M.

Official opening of the reconstructed Forsyth street viaduct will be observed Saturday morning with a brief program to be staged under the auspices of the Central Marietta Street Association. It was announced Thursday afternoon.

The ceremony will begin at 10 o'clock, with the Fulton county commissioners, Mayor I. N. Ragdale, members of city council and officials of the MacDougal Construction Company, as well as representatives of the Central Marietta Street Association present. Few addresses will be made, and what talks may be made will be of the briefest nature, due to the hot weather.

The police band will furnish music during the exercises, which will be held on the south span of the rebuilt bridge. It is expected that a red, white and blue strip of bunting will be stretched across the viaduct, which will be cut, probably by James D. Robinson, president of the downtown merchants' association.

All day Thursday laborers were at work laying asphalt on the southern span in an effort to rush the hour of reopening of the span, with a view to letting the paving material set and cool during the night so that the bridge might be opened to vehicular traffic today. Officials of the MacDougal Construction Company, in charge of the rebuilding of the via-

Alabama Jury Convicts Jurist for Slaying

DECATUR, Ala., June 26.—(P)—Judge William E. Skeggs was found guilty of second degree manslaughter late today for the slaying of Policeman T. E. Wright, shot to death when he stopped the jurist to arrest him on charges of violating a traffic ordinance. Sentence of 10 years in the state penitentiary was passed.

The verdict was returned by a jury which had deliberated for 30 hours.

Defense counsel immediately gave notice of appeal and Judge Skeggs was released under bond pending action on the appeal.

In testimony at the trial, Judge Skeggs admitted shooting the officer but charged he did not know the man who stopped him were officers. He said one of the men hit him over the hand with a heavy instrument before he picked up a gun from the seat of his automobile and opened fire.

Patrolman Bill Moore, who was with Officer Wright when they stopped the jurist at a street intersection, said he had cited the judge to appear in court on a traffic violation charge, and that a moment later Officer Wright fell to the ground wounded. Judge Skeggs, 73 years of age, served as probate judge in this district for several years.

FAMILY GETS ESTATE OF LOUIS WELLHOUSE

Widow and Children Get Bulk of $2,000,000 Atlanta Fortune in Will.

The principal portion of the $2,000,000 estate of Louis Wellhouse, Atlanta manufacturer, was left to Mrs. Blanche G. Wellhouse, the widow, and the three children, in the will filed Thursday with Judge Thomas H. Jeffries, Fulton county ordinary, for probate.

The major part of the estate is to be placed in a trust fund for the benefit of the heirs. The Trust Company of Georgia and Louis Wellhouse, Jr., a son, were named executors. Under a clause in the will any contest or attempt to revoke probate of the will, or any dispute of the testament, will serve to nullify the share of the contestant and place it to the credit of the other heirs, on the ground that acquiescence is a material ingredient in the gift.
Mrs. Wellhouse was bequeathed an automobile and other effects, in addition to $5,000 to be distributed to charity as she deems fit. Mrs. Corinne Meyer and Mrs. Bertha W. Schiff, daughters, were given were purchased by Mr. Wellhouse in Czechoslovakia and Austria. Louis Wellhouse, Jr., was left a diamond ring and the stock in the Louis Wellhouse Investment Company; Ely Meyer, son-in-law, a scarf pin, and Lamont Myers, a friend, $1,000.

The rest of the estate was placed in the trust fund. Out of this fund $500 a year is to be paid Jane W. Meyer, a granddaughter, until she is 18 years old, and then she is to receive $1,200 until she is 21 years old, with $1,000 additional for a trip to Europe.
In the event Louis Wellhouse, Jr., has a son named for the testator, the trustees are to set aside $10,000 for the child's benefit, and are to invest it for his college education. The child will receive half of the fund at 22 and the balance at the age of 25.
Half of the remaining net income of the trust fund is to go to Mrs. Wellhouse during life or widowhood, and the remaining one-half of the net income to the three children.
Mrs. Alice W. Young, of New York, a sister, was left $5,000. In addition, Mrs. Young and another sister, Mrs. Rose W. Young, will receive the income of the stock of the Young Hat Company of New York.
Until his son and son-in-law definitely exercise an option for purchase of the stock in the Crown Paper Company and the United Paper Company, given under separate contract, the executors are to set aside 250 shares in the United Paper Company and 142 1/2 shares in the Crown Paper Company, the dividends or income to be paid to Louis Wellhouse, Jr. If the option is exercised, Wellhouse is to receive this amount of stock as a gift. The executors are instructed to vote the stock so that Louis Wellhouse, Jr., will be president of the United Paper Company, Meyer vice president and Mrs. Blanche G. Wellhouse vice president.

Long Fight Over Title To Cecil Hotel Ended

A long fight over title to the Cecil Hotel property was brought to a close Thursday in Fulton superior court when Judge Edgar E. Pomeroy handed down a decree based on a consent verdict. Under the agreed decision of the jury it was found that the Carolina Realty Company, defendant, owns a good fee simple title to the property, and that the Manget Realty Company, plaintiff, has the right to repurchase the property for $395,000 on or before June 28, 1932.
The verdict found that the transaction between John A. Manget and the defendant was a sale of the property and not a loan. Conditions for the repurchase of the property by the Manget Company involve payment of principal and interest and payment of other obligations in loan on the property at the time of the exercise of the option, the Manget company to pay the difference between the loans and the purchase price to the Carolina company in cash.

New Wheat Disease Found in Georgia

The presence in Georgia of a wheat disease caused by small, microscopic worms was announced Thursday by B. B. Higgins, botanist connected with the Georgia experiment station at Experiment, Ga.
Diseased specimens from which the diagnosis was made were sent the station from a farm at Clermont, Hall county. The heads were distorted, resembling those infected with "stinking smut," and instead of the grain of normal wheat the heads contained hard, swollen and somewhat roughened galls shorter than normal wheat growths.
A cursory investigation revealed that the disease is relatively prevalent in the neighborhood from which the specimens were received, and has been present there for the past two years. The loss this year on three farms due to the disease was estimated at 15 per cent, and one grower estimated that his loss would be as much as 50 per cent.
Land which has produced a diseased crop should not be planted in wheat or in rye, which also are attacked by the worms, the following year. The straw should be burned or handled carefully to avoid spreading to neighboring fields, it was said.

BETTER FILMS BODY BACKS KIDDIE REVUE

Organization Urges All Atlantans To See "Toytown"
Production at Capitol.

Members of the Atlanta Better Films Committee, at the regular monthly luncheon held Thursday at the Ansley hotel, were urged to attend and to send their friends and neighbors to the Capitol theater this week. The reason was the kiddie revue, "Toytown," now being presented there by one hundred local child performers, as a benefit for the Scottish Rite Crippled Children's milk fund.
Speakers spoke in highest possible terms of the entertainment value of the revue and advised every Atlantantian to see it during the week, promising a splendid performance as well as the opportunity to contribute to one of the most worthy causes ever undertaken in this city.
The benefit is sponsored by the Atlanta Masonic Club, with Dr. Claude N. Hughes, chairman of the special committee in charge. The performers in the revue contributed their services, while the training of the cast, staging and costuming of the show was done by Loeber's, Inc., and Chester Hale, the famous New York producer, who sent their finest assistants and technicians to Atlanta especially for this event.
Members of the Pi Pi Sorority, dressed as milkmaids, are in the lobby of the theater at each performance to receive the milk fund contributions from the departing audiences.
The Better Films luncheon on Thursday signified the beginning of the regime of Mrs. Patrick Bray, newly elected president. Mrs. Bray, presiding, introduced the newly appointed officers and committee chairmen of the organization and briefly outlined the future program for the group. In addition to the officials of the organization, speakers included Mrs. Alonzo Richardson, chairman of the local board of censorship; Miss Ruth Alpert, first assistant to Chester Hale and producer of the "Toytown" revue, and Ralph T. Jones, theater editor of The Constitution.
It was decided that the committee would not hold a meeting in July and, beginning in August, the monthly luncheon date will be changed from the second Tuesday to the third Thursday of the month.

GEORGIANS TO BOOST SUTTON CANDIDACY

Pledged to support the candidacy of Dr. Willis A. Sutton, superintendent of Atlanta public schools for the presidency of the National Educational Association, more than 100 delegates from Georgia entrained Thursday for Columbus, Ohio, the convention city.
The group was accompanied by Mrs. Betty Peeler and Miss Orlena B. King, representing the Atlanta Convention Bureau, and Mrs. Inez Parker, representing the adult literacy department of the Georgia Educational Association.
Buttons bearing the picture of the Atlanta school head, who is now first vice president of the association, will be distributed by the convention bureau throughout the convention which begins Saturday and lasts until Friday of next week.
Delegations from virtually every southern state and many eastern and western states are pledged to support Mr. Sutton.
He has the indorsement of the Georgia association, with which he has been prominently connected for many years; the Atlanta Board of Education, and many civic and commercial organizations of Atlanta and Georgia.
Among others included in the party which left Atlanta were Miss Mary Postell, assistant superintendent in charge of elementary schools; H. Reid Hunter, assistant superintendent in charge of high schools; James P. Barron, former president of the Atlanta Public School Teachers' Association, and Kyle P. Alfriend, secretary of the Georgia Educational Association.

Alpha Class Plans Blue Ridge Picnic

Approximately 300 members of the Alpha class of Wesley Memorial church will leave on a special train on Sunday for Blue Ridge, where the annual picnic will be held, under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce of Blue Ridge, and at the invitation of Mayor Crawford, of that city.
The special train will leave Union station at 7 a. m., and leave Blue Ridge that afternoon at 6 o'clock. Echols Spear, of the Citizens and Southern National bank, is in charge of tickets. At Blue Ridge the Chamber of Commerce will provide buses for a tour of the Tobacco plant of the Georgia Power Company.

Draughton School Gets Recognition

Announcement is made that the Draughton School of Commerce has been recognized and accredited by the state board of education, based on junior college standards in commerce. The institution has recently elevated its standards by requiring high school graduation or its equivalent for entrance, and has established a department of higher accounting. Both day and night sessions are held and in addition extension work is given.

Assault Is Charged To Garage Owners

Fighting in a garage, in which a customer testified he had left his car to be repaired, resulted in C. G. Roseman and D. J. Hudson, owners of the garage, at 624 Spring street, N. W., being bound over to the criminal division of city court Thursday on bonds of $300 each charged with assault and battery.
C. D. Stoddard, the customer, alleged the defendants attacked and severely beat him when he protested the charges and the manner in which they did his work. Roseman and Hudson said that Stoddard started the argument.

Hot Weather Forces Mayor To Doff Coat

Mayor I. N. Ragsdale and almost every other executive Thursday tackled their tasks at the city hall sans coats.
"I've stood it about as long as I can and here it goes," the mayor said as he cast his coat aside.
With the mayor as an example, the new style was set and others followed his example immediately.

LEA'S TONIC IMPROVED MY HAIR WONDERFULLY SHE SAYS

Hair Was Thin—Falling Out Badly—Scalp Was Dry, Also Dandruff
TELLS HOW SHE GAINED BACK BEAUTIFUL HAIR

"My scalp was dry and falling out and dandruff worried me. In fact, I was almost bald. My hair was so thin until the lucky day I found a God-send in Lea's Hair Tonic at the drug store. I cannot praise Lea's enough. I had already used most every kind of tonic that came to my notice but to no avail. So you can imagine how delighted I am with Lea's. I began using it just about one year ago and now my hair is thick, glossy, full of life and really beautiful. I think, and friends say so too, I have used in all perhaps twenty-five bottles, but it enhanced my appearance so much I continue to use it and probably always will, every now and then, to keep my scalp and hair in perfect condition. I beg of those who have hair or scalp trouble to give Lea's Hair Tonic a thorough trial. They positively will not be disappointed, I swear it," declared Mrs. Nellie Gerne, 327 Westmont Ave., Westmont, N. J.

People troubled like Mrs. Gerne can easily prove to themselves at home at little expense, how much younger, neater and more presentable they look when the hair is in perfect shape. Even when the hair has turned gray, dead-looking or streaked, Lea's Tonic after a few weeks' use puts all those gray hairs right back to a youthful shade. It seems to put nature back on the job growing a full head of vigorous, even-colored, healthy hair. It doesn't show. Druggists are authorized to cheerfully refund money if you are not delighted, or send dollar bill, check or stamps for bottle by return mail postage paid, to Lea Tonic Co., Brentwood, Md.—(adv.)

HOUSE GROUP TO STUDY LAVARRE'S CHARGES

Graham Names Subcommittee in Deaver Matter.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—(AP)—Chairman Graham, of the house judiciary committee, today formally named a subcommittee of five to study the allegations of William LaVarre, of Columbia, S. C., in a petition filed against Federal Judge Bascom A. Deaver, of the middle district of Georgia.

The subcommittee is composed of Representatives Moore, Ohio; Sparks, of Kansas, and Jones, of North Carolina, Republicans, and Summers, of Texas, and Montague, of Virginia, Democrats.

Moore, who was designated chairman, said the group would probably hold a meeting to study the allegations of LaVarre, a newspaperman, who is now in jail at Augusta, Ga., on a contempt of court charge.

Moore said he did not know anything about the case and had not looked into the LaVarre petition but that under the ordinary procedure when complaints were filed against official conduct of a federal judge a judiciary subcommittee made a preliminary study immediately to determine the basis for the charges. Moore said he received notice today from Chairman Graham that he was to head the group.

Under the procedure in previous cases of this kind a subcommittee reports its findings immediately to the full committee which has the power to institute or to end proceedings of this character.

LaVarre charged in his petition that Judge Deaver had exhibited tyranny in an equity case in which LaVarre was involved with Harold Hall, a former partner in the ownership of a string of South Carolina and Georgia papers.

Representative Crisp, democrat, Georgia, who made a study of LaVarre's charges, said that they "appear baseless." He predicted no investigation would be undertaken by the judiciary committee. The Georgia declared Judge Deaver, a republican, was held in high esteem by the Georgia bar and was recognized as a just jurist.

Haldeman To Start Aerial Venture Today

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., June 26.—Weather conditions permitting, George Haldeman and Stuart Chadwick, veteran aviators, announced tonight they would take off from the beach tomorrow afternoon in an effort to establish a new world's non-refueling endurance flight record.

They plan to take to the air with 1,400 gallons of gasoline which they calculate should be sufficient to keep them aloft for 75 hours. Seventy gallons of oil also will be aboard. The present record is 67 hours and 15 minutes, which is held by two Italian aviators.

Under rules of the National Aeronautic Association, Haldeman and Chadwick must stay up one hour longer than the existing record in order to officially set a new mark.

Fully loaded for the flight, their monoplane will have a gross weight of 14,100 pounds. It is equipped with a 525 horsepower motor. The weight per horsepower is approximately 27 pounds.

August E. Christhill Dies in Baltimore, Md.

BALTIMORE, Md., June 26.—(Special.)—August E. Christhill, one-time roads engineer for Fulton county, Georgia, Atlanta, died suddenly today at his Baltimore home, following an attack believed to have been acute indigestion.

Mr. Christhill, who was a civil engineer in the firm of Howard E. Crook and Company, complained of feeling ill late yesterday and went home. He was treated by a physician and then said he felt somewhat better. Mrs. Christhill was aroused early today and found him dead.

Mr. Christhill formerly was chief engineer of Baltimore. He came into political prominence here through his association with Robert Faggett, Maryland political leader, when he was chief engineer of the political boss's F. E. Schneider Paving Company. When this concern was barred from participating in paving contracts Mr. Christhill went to Atlanta. Returning to Baltimore he assumed the presidency of the Baltimore Asphalt Block and Tile Company, taking over the old "paving king's" plant and property.

Mr. Christhill came to Atlanta some years ago under the administration of Shelby Smith and was employed as a roads engineer for Fulton county for a few months. He was an asphalt expert and as such was employed by the county.

Padlock Ordered For 'Dinty Moore's'

NEW YORK, June 26.—(P)—Dinty Moore's restaurant, a favorite eating place of theatrical magnates, was padlocked today for four months by Federal Judge Knox as the aftermath of a raid March 27, when federal agents declared they found liquor in the basement and purchased some from waiters.

Because Dinty's living quarters are upstairs, with the only entrance through the restaurant, the judge directed that temporary partitions be erected, forming an alley from the street to the stairway while the padlock is on.

Hoover Pays Honor To Buchanan Memory

WASHINGTON, June 26.—(P)—James Buchanan, fifteenth president of the United States, was described today by President Hoover as a man "rich in achievements deserving the gratitude of his country."

Speaking at the unveiling of a monument in Meridian park to the only chief executive Pennsylvania has sent to the White House, Mr. Hoover said Lincoln's predecessor had "occupied the presidency at a moment when no human power could have stayed the inexorable advance of a great national conflict."

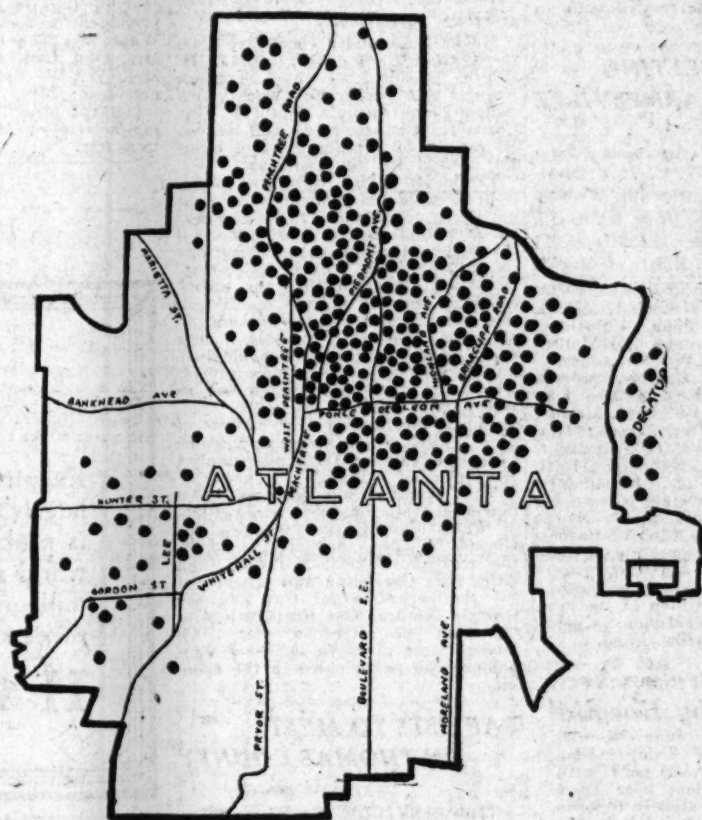

The monument unveiled was a bronze statue of Buchanan seated in a chair with a white stone background. It looks across beautiful Meridian park onto Sixteenth street. The presentation was made by Roland S. Morrow, former ambassador to Japan, representing the state of Pennsylvania.

EACH one of the 353 dots on this map represents an Atlanta home which will be heated with Natural Gas this winter, with equipment furnished by the Atlanta Gas Light Company.

It's better to plan NOW for Gas Heat next winter

If you want to be sure of Natural Gas Heat in Your Home this winter. Please help us by placing your order now.

WE ARE now converting furnaces to use Natural Gas heat at the average rate of fifty a week.

However, orders even now are coming in to us more rapidly than that, so that we are over a hundred installations behind our schedule.

We are filling these orders in the sequence that they are received by us, and will continue to do so. For the present we can guarantee to make installations of conversion units before September 15th.

You may be sure that we will make every effort to see that no one who wishes to use gas for home heating this winter will be disappointed.

But in every city where Natural Gas has been turned on in place of manufactured gas, such a flood of orders have been received late the first summer as to make it impossible to avoid disappointing many people.

Unless with your co-operation we can avoid it, this will certainly happen in Atlanta.

There is no real reason for waiting. Every installation carries our unqualified guarantee that you will be completely satisfied in every respect. If it should happen that you do not like it, for any reason, after a complete trial for all the winter if you like, we will remove the unit, replace your present grates, and refund every penny you have paid us, except for the actual gas you have used.

The units are not expensive, the first payment required is small, and you may pay as little as ten dollars a month with your gas bill if you like.

Please help us avoid the last-minute rush.

ATLANTIAN ELECTED B. Y. P. U. PRESIDENT

GAINESVILLE, Ga., June 26.—The Georgia Baptist Young People's Union convention and encampment, which opened at Riverside academy Saturday night, is proving a splendid success, according to State B. Y. P. U. Secretary Edwin S. Preston, of Atlanta. Around 275 young people from various sections of Georgia are in attendance upon this eight-day meeting, which closes Saturday morning.

Frank A. Hooper, Jr., of Atlanta, was re-elected president during the annual business session which was held Thursday afternoon. Mr. Hooper was nominated by Gainer E. Bryan, of Macon. The other officers who were nominated on the floor are: Vice president, R. B. Sims, of Columbus; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Thomas E. Turner, Jr., of Macon. The committee on nominations, R. B. Sims, chairman, nominated the following officers, who were unanimously elected: Regional: J. D. Matheson, Royston; Miss Florance Rudess, Cornelia; Gainer E. Bryan, Macon; Miss Edna West, Dublin; Kermit D. Carr, Statesboro; Miss Myrl McCord, Glennville; Carl McGinnis, Chickamauga; Miss Emma Sutherland, Cave Spring; Walter R. Thomas, Atlanta; Miss Evelyn Ellison, East Point; Frank Cochran, Cochran; Mrs. T. C. Rutland, Albany. Executive committee: J. L. Baggett, Hawkinsville; Walter F. Binn, LaGrange; Bunyan Stephens, Rome; T. F. Callaway, Thomasville; R. E. L. Harris, Hogshead; Leon M. Latimer, Griffin; James W. Merritt, Atlanta; Lonnie D. Newton, Atlanta; E. C. Sheridan, Augusta.

Colonel Sandy Beaver, president of Riverside Military Academy, where all sessions of the encampment conveniences are being held, has placed the entire institution with all of its facilities, including buildings, grounds, athletic equipment and other conveniences at the disposal of the Baptist Young People's Union for the entire week. The following schedule obtains each day throughout the week—morning, study periods and an inspiring address; afternoon, wholesome recreation and diversion; night, sunset vesper service, fun period and an inspiring address. Dr. Louis D. Newton, of Atlanta, pastor of Druid Hills Baptist church, is conducting the sunset vesper services each day.

Some of the convention speakers and teachers are Dr. W. J. McGlothlin, Miss Verdie Von Hagen, Dr. John L. Hill, J. E. Lambdin, Dr. Roland Q. Leavell, Mrs. J. E. Lambdin, James W. Merritt, James W. Hamilton, George Sparks, Mrs. T. C. Rutland, Frank Cochran, R. Elton Johnson, Frank A. Hooper, Jr., Edna West, Sibley C. Burnett, R. B. Sims, Gainer E. Bryan, Dr. Louis D. Newton, Mrs. Adam Sloan, John D. Hoffman, Miss Etta Blackstock, Leslie

MELON MARKET GLUT BRINGS SHIPMENT BAN

ADEL, Ga., June 26.—(P)—The Sovega Melon Growers' Association instructed all of its managers at watermelon loading points to stop all watermelon shipments for this week with Thursday's loadings, because of the glutted conditions of the markets.

By next week, after the markets have been cleaned up, the movement will be resumed, it was stated.

Other co-operative associations are said to have joined in the movement. Excessive heat during the last few days has ripened melons rapidly, so fast in fact that there is a car shortage at some points.

Williams, Mrs. R. Elton Johnson, Mrs. Edwin S. Preston, Mrs. Parks Warnock, R. B. Mayfield, S. A. Cowan.

The executive committee, Frank A. Hooper, chairman, will meet Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock to formulate plans for next year's encampment and convention combined. Since the idea has proven so popular and the plan of meeting so desirable, the program will be made an annual event, it was stated.

ROWLAND NAMED HEAD OF DAWSON LEGION

DAWSON, Ga., June 26.—The Daniel Post No. 133, the American Legion, at its regular meeting, elected the following officers for the ensuing year:

Commander, Arthur Rowland; adjutant, F. Lawson Cook; senior vice commander, Carl Brown; junior vice commanders, George Gammon, Brownwood district; Emmett E. Pinkerton, Parrott district; and W. N. Davis, Sasser district; finance officer, G. M. Lowe.

The executive committee is yet to be appointed by the commander as are chaplain, historian and sergeant-at-arms; also the various committees.

S. L. Perkins was named as chairman of the local delegation to the state convention of the American Legion which convenes in Gainesville July 2-5, and three other delegates are to be named by the commander.

Heat Damages Highway.

The concrete paving on the Dawson-Albany link of the Florida Short Route between Dawson and Sasser is reported to have suffered some from the ill effects of the excessive heat during the past few days, in that the paving in two places, each several hundred yards apart, had cracked and "bucked up," and in one instance it is said one section of the paving over-lapped the other.

A representative of the state highway department who has charge of the upkeep of the state-aid roads in this county advised this morning that two places were undergoing a state of repair and the highway is open to traffic. About four feet of the concrete in each place, it is said, has been removed and the opening filled in with linemen, later to be treated with an asphalt and slag top.

W. C. T. U. MEETING HELD IN BARNESVILLE

BARNESVILLE, Ga., June 26.—The sixth district W. C. T. U. meeting was held in Barnesville Wednesday with delegates from Forsyth, Griffin, Jacksonville, Zebulon and Macon; Mrs. A. R. CARROLLTON GETS NATURAL GAS PLANT

CARROLLTON, Ga., June 26.—The arrival of natural gas here and the completion of the first plant in Georgia for the Georgia Natural Gas Corporation were signaled by a celebration in which the mayor and city council, the civilian club and citizens generally participated.

Mayor Luck and a committee from the Civitan Club called upon J. E. White, president of the Southern Natural Gas Corporation, with which company the Georgia Natural Gas Corporation is associated, and Reuben R. Arnold, of Atlanta, chief of Georgia counsel for the company.

President White said the reception extended his company was most gratifying to him and those associated with him in the construction of the 1,700-mile of natural gas line in the southeast. Such a gesture, he added, indicated that the utility company and the citizens of Carrollton were friends and co-workers in their task to bring to pass a new epoch in this section and would help build up a feeling of common interest which would be of value to one as well as to the other.

In addition to the short address of Mr. White's, there was a welcome address by Mayor Luck and Reuben R. Arnold.

The reception was featured by a luncheon given by the Civitan Club, of which Sam Boykin is president. The officials, including city officials, the mayors of various towns and cities near Carrollton and officials of the Southern Natural Gas and the Georgia Natural Gas Corporations. During the afternoon over 2,000 flowers were given to ladies of Carrollton who participated in the opening.

BAPTISTS TO MEET IN THOMAS COUNTY

THOMASVILLE, Ga., June 26.—The Thomas County Baptist Sunday School convention will meet in the Antioch church in this county, on Saturday and Sunday.

At least five delegates will attend from each church of the Baptist denomination in Thomas county.

Officers of the convention are I. P. Hart, of Pavo, president; Mel H. Goodwin, of Thomasville, vice president; W. B. Hambleton, of Meigs, vice president; F. W. Reddick, of Pavo, secretary.

The singing will be led by J. W. Evans.

The Rev. J. W. Chisholm will discuss relations of church to Sunday school; the Rev. W. M. Davis will talk on getting adults to study the Scriptures; the Rev. T. F. Callaway will speak on why teachers should be evangelists; the Rev. J. B. Allgood will talk on the rural Sunday school; and the Rev. J. Gorman Garrison will deliver an address on the value of the Sunday school in shaping lives of young people.

PAIR BOUND OVER IN ATTEMPTED ROBBERY

SAVANNAH, Ga., June 26.—(P)—William Early and Don E. Harjoe, charged with attempted burglary of the American Express offices here last Saturday night, were held for action of the grand jury Thursday after a preliminary hearing in police court. Bond for each was fixed at $20,000, which neither could give. Mrs. Daisy Early is still in custody of police, though is not involved in the burglary charge. An additional charge of assault with intent to murder is against the two men.

MILL EMPLOYE ENDS LIFE AT LINDALE

LINDALE, Ga., June 26.—J. J. McHaffey, 48, for more than 30 years a mechanic for the Lindale mills, ended his life shortly after the mills closed Thursday at his home. Ill health is given as the cause for suicide.

SAVANNAH, Ga., June 26.—(P)—Georgia Kiwanians met here Thursday to sail for New York, where they will sail for Atlantic City and the international Kiwanis convention June 29 through July 3.

The delegates will sail on the liner City of Chattanooga.

The Georgians will return by train, coming by way of Washington. W. B. Gibbs, district governor, heads the delegation.

Box of Hailstones Gathered After Storm

THOMASVILLE, Ga., June 26.—A large box, filled with hailstones, was brought into Thomasville Wednesday afternoon. They are mute reminders of the severe hail, rain and wind-storm that swept through the southeastern section of this county Saturday afternoon, and, at this late date, 150 hours after the hail fell, are still as large as marbles. Wagonloads of them are still on the ground, piled up in low places, where they were rolled by the deluge of water from the nearby hillsides.

TWO PERSONS HURT AS AUTOS COLLIDE

SPARTA, Ga., June 26.—A lumber truck driven by William Gaisert, of Sparta, collided with the automobile of Dr. Horace Darden on the Sparta-Mount Zion highway Thursday morning. The driver and George Hussey, a helper, were rushed to the office of a local physician and given treatment. Hussey received a fractured knee and Gaisert suffered cuts and bruises about the head and face.

Dr. Darden was badly shaken up but received no serious injury. Both machines were wrecked almost beyond repair. Eye witnesses said that it was only a miracle that the occupants of both car and truck were not killed as they were both making good speed when they crashed.

FOURTEENTH DISTRICT CENSUS COMPLETED

THOMASVILLE, Ga., June 26.—Complete census figures for the 14th Georgia district have just been given out by Dr. J. T. Culpepper, supervisor, with offices in Thomasville. Total population of the 11 counties in the district is 217,077, which shows a loss, in ten years, of 4,425.

Four counties, Colquitt, Dougherty, Early and Decatur showed gains, and the other seven, Grady, Thomas, Brooks, Mitchell, Baker, Miller and Seminole, registered losses in the ten-year period. Tabulated figures are as follows:

County	1920	1930	Change
Colquitt	30,420	32,044	1,624
Dougherty	23,624	25,307	1,683

MERCURY'S MUTATIONS AROUSE MR. CARGILL

COLUMBUS, June 26.—A thermometer thrust under the collar of J. Ralston Cargill, secretary-treasurer and traffic manager of the local chamber of commerce, would register a temperature at least 10 degrees higher than the temperature of 105 recorded Monday in the capital of south-west Georgia.

Mr. Cargill may be an idealist in the matter of locating locks and dams and acquiring such accessories as self-propelled barges, but he is a pragmatist in the matter of a site for the official thermometer of the meteorological department of the federal government. Which is to say that Mr. Cargill is of the opinion that the official weather phenomena of the United States government is a complete misfit so far as it relates to the temperature facts of the Pearl of Mississippi.

Accordingly, Mr. Cargill has written to Senator Walter F. George and requested that an investigation be made by the United States weather bureau to determine if the official thermometer located at Columbus has the proper position as to height above the ground and environment to give Columbus a just and accurate record of the temperature from day to day.

And to the foregoing, Mr. Cargill adds the following: "On the occasion of my recent visit to the weather bureau at Washington, D. C., I encountered with hot weather in Montgomery as recorded from the top of practically ground level in an environment of refracted heat and locomotive boiler."

"Tuesday morning's Enquirer-Sun quotes the official reading for Columbus as 105 degrees on Monday, the highest mark the mercury has reached here since June 17, 1921, when 106 degrees was recorded. The paper goes on to say that Columbus was the hottest city in the nation and was equaled in the nation only by Centralia, Ill., which registered 105."

"I happened to be in Montgomery, Ala., on Thursday of last week and the paper there stated that the official reading of the thermometer was 95 degrees, the high mark for the day, explaining that the instrument was located on top of the federal building and that a sidewalk reading would have given a mark of 105 degrees. The Montgomery Advertiser of today gives the official thermometer reading for yesterday at 102.3 degrees. The Advertiser further states that a thermometer of 104.7 degrees was reported by Maxwell Field yesterday but the thermometer at Maxwell Field is nearer the ground than the official thermometer of the Federal building in Montgomery."

"The official thermometer at Columbus is now located at Fire Station No. 4 on the railroad tracks in the immediate vicinity of the Union depot and near a wide expanse of street paving, besides being close to the ground."

"For many years the official thermometer was located in the courthouse park on the grass lawn in the midst of shade trees; it was close to the ground on a stand probably three or four feet in height."

"It seems to me that official thermometer of the United States weather bureau or reporting stations should be placed at the same height above the ground in each city where located—some arbitrary height determined by the bureau, and in a normal environment which would make temperature records comparable in a just and accurate way as between all cities, so that the official reading of all reporting cities will be on the same basis as to position of the record instrument, its height above ground and its location away from temperature-influencing factors, such as proximity to buildings, railroad tracks, pavements, etc."

"Just why a city of the size and importance and enterprise of Columbus should not have an official weather bureau grows in mystery. Meanwhile the mercury here does not merely evolve upward, it indulges in colorful mutations."

Popular Student

Robert Angus Anderson, Jr., of Savannah, Ga., who recently received his diploma from Georgia Tech, was one of the institution's most popular students. He served as vice president of the Tech chapter, and of the Sigma Chi Social Fraternity and was a member of the Civil Crew and the National Society of Sea Scouts. Mr. Anderson has accepted a position with the Firestone Corporation of Akron, Ohio, being one of the 25 selected by the company from 18 colleges in the country.

DROWNED BOY'S BODY FOUND IN CREEK

LAGRANGE, Ga., June 26.—The body of William Pike, 15-year-old boy, drowned Wednesday afternoon in Yellow Jacket Creek, ten miles from LAGRANGE, has been recovered. The youth was wading with two companions when he stepped from a sandbar into deep water. He could not swim.

Members of the United States weather bureau or reporting stations should be placed at the same height above the ground in each city where located—some arbitrary height determined by the bureau, and in a normal environment which would make temperature records comparable in a just and accurate way as between all cities, so that the official reading of all reporting cities will be on the same basis as to position of the record instrument, its height above ground and its location away from temperature-influencing factors, such as proximity to buildings, railroad tracks, pavements, etc."

"Just why a city of the size and importance and enterprise of Columbus should not have an official weather bureau grows in mystery. Meanwhile the mercury here does not merely evolve upward, it indulges in colorful mutations."

THREE GIFTS RECEIVED BY WESLEYAN COLLEGE

MAON, Ga., June 26.—Three gifts consisting of a scholarship, a private library of books on Georgia history, and a copy of a famous painting have recently been made to Wesleyan college.

A scholarship to be used for foreign students at Wesleyan was the farewell gift of Mrs. W. F. Quillian before leaving for Nashville, Tenn., where Dr. Quillian will be located as general secretary of the new board of Christian education, Methodist Episcopal church, south. Mrs. Quillian is a native of Wesleyan, and since her college days has been especially interested in the foreign students, acting as friend and foster-mother to them during the 10 years of Dr. Quillian's presidency.

O. A. Park, member of the board of trustees at Wesleyan college, presented to the Candler Memorial library his private collection of rare volumes on Georgia history. The books will be placed in the Georgia room of the library under the name of the Park Georgia collection.

W. D. Lamar, of Macon, gave the school a copy of the Madonna and Child, by Murillo, in honor of his wife, Dorothy Blount Lamar, a graduate of Wesleyan and the first alumna trustee of Macon. The picture was selected by Mr. Lamar during a recent visit to Italy.

Mr. Lamar's gift is the second painting of the Madonna that Wesleyan has received since moving to the new campus, the first being a copy of Raphael's Madonna of the Chair, given by Admiral W. S. Benson in memory of his mother, Catherine E. Brewer Benson, first graduate of Wesleyan. Both pictures are hung in the grand parlor of the institution.

SURETY COMPANY LOSES SUIT AGAINST SHERIFF

THOMASVILLE, Ga., June 26.—A jury in Thomasville city court brought in a verdict Wednesday in favor of Sheriff Gordon Davis in a suit for $800 brought against him by American Surety Company.

The case grew out of fees paid for attorneys in a suit against Deputy Sheriff Kemp, the sheriff and his surety. The defendant in that case got a favorable verdict, but the company sued the sheriff for payment of the attorney's fees. The sheriff claimed he had himself employed counsel to represent him. The surety company contended they had employed attorneys and the sheriff knew it.

Suit Filed To Recover Money Claimed Stolen

MAON, Ga., June 26.—(P)—F. S. Sullivan, Houston county farmer, filed suit for $3,000 in Bibb superior court Wednesday against Carey Bivings, negro, alleging the money was originally stolen from him.

Sullivan contends he was robbed by A. H. Wragg of $4,157, and that $3,000 was later turned over to Bivings by Wragg, who is now serving a chain-gang sentence for the robbery.

441 Gallons of Liquor Confiscated in Raids

SAVANNAH, Ga., June 26.—(P)—Robert Fabin was short in his reckoning when he told federal agents who arrested him Thursday that he had 140 gallons of corn liquor on charge, 85 gallons already aged, and 55 gallons of raw liquor. The agents found a total of 343 gallons, while Fabin accounted for only 310. He pleaded guilty, however, before a commissioner to a charge of possession.

After they had confiscated Fabin's stock, the agents took him to the county jail. He is now in custody with 98 gallons of liquor at the 9-1-2 mile post on the Louisville road on the same charge, making a total of 441 gallons captured in the two arrests.

Spanking Woman Brings Jail Term

HANFORD, Cal., June 26.—(P)—Don't spank a woman, even those who drive automobiles, is the moral John Sordor, oil worker, gleaned from a 30-day jail sentence imposed upon him.

Sordor's car brushed fenders recently of San Francisco. Sordor charged her, dragged her from her automobile, turned her over his knee and spanked her. After his arrest he said he had been shell shocked.

WARE COUNTY G. O. P. TO MEET SATURDAY

WAYCROSS, Ga., June 26.—The countywide republican mass meeting for the nomination of county officers will be held here Saturday.

The republicans have decided to use this mass meeting in the place of a primary, such as the democrats will use. Three candidates are to be selected, one for the state senate and two for the state house of representatives.

As a consequence, the voters will know the republican candidates weeks in advance of the democratic primary, as this primary is not to be held until September 12. Only one of the democratic candidates is unopposed, and this is C. V. Stanton, who is asking for re-election as representative.

The democrats have two candidates for the senate, John W. Bennett, Sr., and Scott T. Benton, and two candidates for one of the places in the house—H. D. Bunn and O. E. Giddens.

The republicans will not name candidates for judge and for solicitor of the superior court. It is the expectation that they will name a candidate for congress. Their decision on this point is to be announced July 12.

MIXED SHIPMENTS MADE IN VALDOSTA

VALDOSTA, Ga., June 26.—Mayor J. R. Dasher inaugurated a new shipping plan for cantaloupes and green corn, loading a car half and half and will continue to make mixed shipments of this kind during the remainder of the season.

He has a large tobacco acreage, as well as many acres of cotton and corn, and generally speaking he manages to keep quite busy most of the time.

GRIFFIN PASTOR GETS CALL TO TEXAS

GRiffin, Ga., June 26.—(P)—Dr. J. M. Latimer, pastor of the Griffin Baptist church, has received a call to the First Baptist church of Austin, Texas, one of the largest in the state.

Dr. Latimer said he was considering the call and expects to announce his decision within a few days.

NEGRO CELEBRATES 106TH BIRTHDAY

MAON, Ga., June 26.—(P)—Phil Toot, 106-year-old Macon negro, who remembers when the stars fell and when the Civil War was fought, celebrated his birthday anniversary Wednesday.

He said that he hoped that with herbs mixed with a "taste of licker" he may live as long as Zoro Agha, 158-year-old Turk.

"I'd like to meet Zoro if he comes this way," said the old negro.

FIRE CHIEFS TO MEET IN ATHENS IN 1931

CHARLOTTE, N. C., June 26.—(P)—The southeastern division of the International Association of Fire Chiefs will hold its 1931 convention in Athens, Ga.

The Georgia city was selected at the final business session of the convention. The date for next year's convention was not set.

New officers elected were: Sherwood Brockwell, of Raleigh, president; John H. Monroe, Savannah, Ga.; first vice president; H. B. Wells, Newberry, S. C.; second vice president; John L. Miller, Concord, secretary, and H. S. Baughan, Norfolk, Va., treasurer.

VALDOSTA ROTARIANS TO INSTALL OFFICERS

VALDOSTA, Ga., June 26.—At the regular luncheon of the Rotary club, Dr. Dan H. Bredelove served his last time as president of the organization, although he did not turn the reins of government over to his successor, President-elect Robert L. Stump, who is attending the International Rotary convention.

Other new officers who will take their places next week include Dr. H. Bredelove, vice president; J. H. Fuller, secretary, and Fleming Winn, treasurer. The directors besides including President Stump and Secretary Fuller are J. B. Copeland, A. G. Cleveland, O. H. Dukes and W. B. Stubbs.

Fox 'Rough Romance' Is Weak as to Plot

"Rough Romance," the Fox Movie-tone production which opens its local run at the Fox theater tomorrow, is the kind of a picture people who have longed for the unsophisticated melodrama of 40 years ago will delight in. It isn't a bad sort of thing, at all, and there is nothing wrong with the directing, the performers or the camera work. Its only weakness is its story, which is a little too obvious, a little too impossible, for the modern movie fan to completely accept.

It is laid among lumber camps of the far northwest, with murder, gunplay, the mighty sheriff and the inevitable fight between the hero and villain—with the inevitable outcome—all leading up to the inevitable rescue of heroine by hero and the inevitable final climax.

It has, however, quite a few thrilling shots and the principal roles are played so excellently that the weakness of plot is almost overcome. This is especially true of the work of Helen Chandler, as the heroine.

Admirers of George O'Brien will like him as the lumberjack hero, while Antonio Moreno does all that is required of him as villain. Noel Francis, as a wild jamboree entertainer, is clever and Eddie Horden, as O'Brien's pal, provides a lot of good comedy.

Outstanding among the inconsistencies are the dream of the little woods girl—who has never known any other life—and the marvelously rapid recovery of the hero's wounded shoulder when it becomes necessary for him to fight to the death with the villain and to swim through swirling rapids jammed with 40-foot logs in order to save the heroine. That shoulder gets well altogether too quickly for realism.

BY JOHN P. BOUGHAN

Associated Press Market Editor

CHICAGO, June 26.—(AP)—Active buying that was largely about sources northwest brought about upward in wheat values today.

Renewal of drought reports from sections of Alberta from importance, Canada, was a stimulus, and so too were reports of big sales of flour to eastern countries. Much talk was of current reports to have the board extended stabilization operations to include this season's crops.

After a minimum rise of 1-1/2 cents, wheat closed yesterday's

1-1/2 higher than yesterday's

1-1/2. Corn closed 3-1/2 up, up to 1-1/2 advance, and provisions up 7-3/4.

From the outset today, unusual attention on the part of wheat traders was given to chances of emergency measures being taken by the board, such measures being taken by the board

government-sanctioned purchase of 25,000,000 bushels of wheat to be withdrawn from the market.

No definite announcement in this connection, however, was forwarded, but the market was after the market had closed for the day.

Then came word that the National

Grain Stabilization Corporation had completely discontinued the sale of wheat from the 1929 crop, and that the 1929 crop was moving out of the market. The amount of wheat from the market is three times greater than the difference between the United States present supply and the total a year ago.

Meanwhile, the wheat trade anticipating at least some encouraging news from reports from France, and that offerings from growers in that country have become scarcer were here.

On the other hand, domestic wheat crop advances, and harvest conditions south west, however, were mostly favorable, and Liverpool

closing quotations were less encouraging to bulls than in the case earlier in the day. Optimism help, however, and increasing adverse crop reports from

Canada dominated the market reactions that resulted largely from profit-taking.

Corn rallied with wheat and much more than it had in the previous session, and established a new low price for the season. The transient setback of corn values was more or less due to rumors that had fallen overhead where. Oats shared in the price up-

turn of other grain.

Provisions were responsive to higher prices for slaughter

NEW YORK, June 26.—(P)—Cotton was higher today in response to relatively steady Liverpool cables, reports of a better tone in grain and stocks and continued high temperatures in the south, which seemed to be causing some uneasiness, particularly in central belt sections, where rain is supposed to be needed.

July sold up to 12.37, or 28 points net higher and closed at 12.37, while the new October advanced to 12.33 and closed at 12.33. The general market closed steady at net advances of 33 to 39 points.

The opening was steady, a net advance of 11 to 14 points in response to the firmer showing of Liverpool, the circulation of additional July notices, estimated at about 14,000 bales, brought out some further liquidation of July, but the offerings were light and appeared to be readily absorbed by the trade or shorts.

The same interests credited with stopping notices against making a net gain of 33 to 39 points.

The buying increased after the publication of the detailed weather reports showing a continuance of very high temperatures in the south, and the firmness of the wheat market no doubt encouraged the demand.

The old October sold up to 12.32 and the new December advanced to 12.31, gains of about 34 to 41 points on the general list, and the close was within 4 or 5 points of the best on the new active near futures.

July closed at a premium of 61 points over the new October, compared with 60 points at the close of the previous day.

A feeling that the liquidation of the scattering long interest in June had been pretty well completed was regarded by local brokers as one of the factors in the steady running of the market, while the bettering rally of wheat and stocks were contributing influences.

The detailed weather reports showed maximum temperatures of 100 degrees or above at 135 stations over the belt outside the Carolinas.

Liverpool cables reported continental and Bombay buying with a scarcity of contracts in that market. Port receipts today, 2,415. U. S. port stocks, 1,080,570. Exports, 2,801, making 6,629,063 so far this season.

AT NEW ORLEANS.
NEW ORLEANS, June 26.—(P)—The cotton market developed a new trend in fairly active trading today. Cables were better than day and prices advanced 15 to 16 points in early trading on new crop months.

July was relatively quiet, with 3 points owing to the issue of additional notices of delivery both here and in New York.

CAPITAL CITY CLUB OPENS ROOF GARDEN FOR SUMMER

Roof Garden Proves Welcome Oasis During Warm Months

Capital City Club held the annual summer opening on the roof garden last evening with an informal dinner and dance. The roof, with its waving fern and palm fronds and gaily blooming boxes of bright colored blossoms, proved a veritable oasis from the extreme heat experienced by Atlantans during the past few days. Always delightfully cool and comfortable, this rendezvous automatically becomes one of the most popular places in the city for informal and impromptu entertainments suitable to the warm weather social activities. A bowl of summer flowers centered each table about which were gathered a number of congenial parties. Officers of the club are: President, W. C. Wardlaw; vice president, Charles P. Nunnally; secretary and treasurer, W. T. Perkerson; directors, Milton Dargan, Jr., James D. Robinson, L. W. Robert, Jr., Baxter Maddox, Albert E. Thornton, Albert Howell, R. W. Woodruff, R. H. White, Jr., George W. McCarty, Jr.

Congential Parties.
Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kitching had as their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Allen, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Clay Moore, Dr. Klatt Armstrong and Raymond Kline.
Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Wardlaw entertained in compliment to their guest,

Miss Taylor Weds Frank M. Coyne At Quiet Ceremony

The marriage of Miss Etta Anita Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce B. Taylor, of Houston, Texas, formerly of Atlanta, to Frank Monroe Coyne, son of Mrs. C. M. Coyne and the late Major Coyne, of Atlanta, is of wide social interest. The wedding took place at 4:30 o'clock yesterday at the rectory of the Sacred Heart church. The Rev. Father John Emmert performed the ceremony in the presence of relatives and friends of the couple.

The bride's maid of honor and only attendant was her sister, Miss Fanny Taylor. Her gown was of pale blue chiffon with close fitting bodice and full uneven skirt which touched the floor. She wore a beige horsehair hat and slippers of beige, and carried an old fashioned bouquet of garden flowers. Woodrow Coleman was best man.

The bride was radiantly beautiful in her wedding gown of pale pink chiffon with close fitting bodice and full uneven skirt touching the floor. Her picture hat was of pink horsehair braid and her slippers of pink moire. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Catherine Klaitz kept the bride's book. Mrs. Taylor, mother of the bride, wore beige crepe with accessories of beige. Her corsage was of lavender sweet peas. Mrs. Coyne, mother of the groom, wore navy blue georgette with a corsage of pink sweet peas.

Mr. and Mrs. Coyne left on a motor trip to points of interest in Florida. The bride traveled in a green shantung tailored suit with a white chiffon blouse and accessories of white. The out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Bruce B. Taylor, Miss Fanny Taylor and Miss Mary Henfling, all of Houston, Texas, and Mrs. Graham Connett, of Raleigh, N. C. Mr. and Mrs. Coyne will be at home after July 10 at 1184 St. Charles place, northeast.

Dining Together.
Dining together were Mr. and Mrs. Morris Brandon, Jr., Miss Julia Menard, Miss Elizabeth Spaulding, Miss Vaughn Nixon, Bill Minnich, Fred Minnich, Bill Ward, Francis Gilbert, Inman Brandon, Roby Robinson.
Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Brooke entertained Mr. and Mrs. Charles Evans. Others having reservations included Mr. and Mrs. J. William Pope, A. E. Thompson, Bayler Hickman, Mrs. W. C. Hawkins, B. P. Gambrell and Mrs. Van Rith.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Howell entertained in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Howell, who have recently returned from a trip to Europe.
Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Wardlaw, III, were hosts to a congenial group of friends in compliment to Miss Muriel Vincent and Henry Watkins, Jr., of New York, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Wardlaw.

Mr. and Mrs. Goodloe Yancey, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Neel, Dr. and Mrs. J. P. Pierson, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Wilby, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Doak dined together.
With Mr. and Mrs. Robert Strickland were Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Anderson, Dr. and Mrs. John Duncan, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Carter, Dr. John Holmes, T. W. Tift and Thomas J. Daniel. Mr. and Mrs. Veazy Rainwater had as their guests Miss Martha Edmondson, Mr. and Mrs. Brooks Morgan, Veazy Rainwater, Jr., Brown Rainwater and Crawford Rainwater.

Mrs. Purtell Was Founder Of Home for Old Women

Mrs. Sarah J. Purtell, of Atlanta, founder of Home for Old Women, the 25th anniversary having been celebrated yesterday, as the institution opened its doors June 26, 1910.

One of the most appealing philanthropic institutions of Atlanta is the Home for Old Women, which since its establishment in 1905 has moved forward to a larger field of usefulness. The institution marked its silver anniversary yesterday. Although there will be no formal entertainment, free will offerings will be taken. The twenty-fifth anniversary of the home brings to the fore Mrs. Sarah J. Purtell, founder of the institution, and for ten years was active president of the board of lady managers. Upon resigning as active president she was made honorary life president. Mrs. F. M. Parley, vice president, succeeded her as president.

The problem of location was one of the most difficult to be met. After much difficulty, through the suggestion of Judge John R. Wilkinson, Mrs. Purtell secured from J. C. Greenfield the keys to a small cottage at Peachtree and Cain streets which was owned by the Masons. Here the doors were thrown open June 26, 1910, to a group of old ladies of the city whose age prohibited active work. The late Governor and Mrs. Terrell often visited this little group.

Generous Citizens.
By the evening of the opening day money, furniture and provisions came from generous citizens. The first check was brought in by Ed Alfriend, one of the Bell house boys. He had read the morning paper and saw that he had new neighbors, and believing the first days to be the hardest, left a check for $25, with request to call upon him when more was needed.
From June to September the cottage was used, but as work for the Masonic temple was to begin a new place was needed. At this time A. K. Hawk gave the old Green Dodd home on Mitchell street, and it was here a building fund was established by the Rev. Sam P. Jones, of Carterville. Colonel John Temple Graves made an address for the purpose, leaving Mr. Jones to take up the collection. Dr. W. W. Landrum made a prayer; Mrs. Livingston Mims read a beautiful poem, "Daughters of Love," written by beloved late Frank L. Stanton in honor of this occasion, for the Home for Old Women. Talks were made by Father Gunn and Rabbi Marx, and music rendered by the choir of the First Baptist church, the following acting as secretaries: E. H. Thornton, Joseph A. McCord, W. T. Gentry, John Brice, E. H. Carman, H. E. Frye, Harry Schlessinger and Colonel Livingston Mims. From this benefit $1,000 was collected, and was the beginning of a permanent home for old women. The Grand theater, lighting and ushers, were tendered gratis by the late Laurence Givens and his family. When this fund reached $5,000 a suitable location was sought and the W. E. Wimpy home in West End was chosen, with a purchase price of $15,000. Of this amount Mr. Wimpy donated $5,000 and accepted the amount on hand, giving unlimited time for the balance and without interest. But in one year, by donation, benefit and other sources the full amount was raised and the home was paid for, beautifully furnished and providing for a larger enrollment of inmates. An annex of 20 rooms was soon found necessary and this was the next undertaking. Largely by donations of building material this, too, was accomplished and 40 old ladies were in the home.

Joseph A. McCord has been treasurer of the building fund since its inception no gift too small for record or acknowledgment. The trustees have served most faithfully, giving of their time, service and money. The first board which responded to every call included Beaumont Davis, chairman; H. M. Patterson, vice chairman; Joseph A. McCord, treasurer; Dr. John W. Hurt, secretary; M. Rich, W. E. Wimpy, F. L. Seely, Louis Regenstrein, J. Lee Barnes, T. R. Sawtell, E. P. Wood, Isaac Schoen, A. M. Smith and Dr. J. E. Somerfield.

Ten Years Service.
The course of ten years service Mrs. Purtell gave her best efforts, without compensation and many times when disappointment in the arrival of coal and food, donations arriving at the home has sent from her own home to supply the need for the home. In a contest for $1,000 Mrs. Purtell, assisted by three co-workers, succeeded in securing the second prize, an automobile valued at $1,000, which was purchased by C. J. Kamper at this price, making it possible to start the endowment fund with $1,000.

Mrs. Purtell was born in Atlanta, August 6, 1848, daughter of Elisha Dyer Crawford and Elias A. Christian, native Georgians for several generations. She is a charter member of the Pioneer Society and as young girl gave her first services to the Concordia, making beds and caring for the wounded under direction of Dr. Charles D. Alving. She joined the Atlanta chapter of U. D. C. when it was in its infancy and has Crawford, Dyer and Wheeler lines in the D. A. R.

On this, the 25th anniversary, Mrs. Purtell, who reached the 88th milestone on August 6, is a vitally interested in the progress of her faithful

Miss Howard To Be Honored At Many Parties

Miss Dorothy Lee Howard, of Washington, D. C., the attractive guest of Miss Peggy Pondexter, is being entertained at a number of social affairs during her visit here. Today Miss Peggy Hatch will be hostess at her home on Lullwater road in Druid Hills at a luncheon at 1 o'clock in honor of Miss Howard. The guests will include a few close friends of the hostess and honor guest.

Saturday, June 28, Miss Howard will be central figure at a luncheon to be given at 1 o'clock by Miss Phoebe Ellis and Miss Little Finkhouse, at the home of Miss Ellis' sister, Mrs. Edmund Fay Pierce, on Peachtree road.

This afternoon Miss Frances Spaulding will be hostess at a bridge-tee at her home, The Homestead, in West End, complimenting Miss Howard.

Boys' High Class Holds Reunion.

Graduates of the Boys' High school in the class of 1923 assembled last evening for their annual reunion at the Francis Virginia tea room, on Poplar street, it is announced by Max Hall, secretary of the class. This class, some 100 strong, was the first to graduate from the Atlanta school system after having completed the new system which introduced the junior high schools to Atlanta.

Thursday's reunion assembled the class for the first time since its reunion last summer. Members of the Boys' High faculty, who were teaching at the time the class of 1923 was rolled, spoke at the banquet. Emmett Bushin, president of the group, acted as toastmaster. The other officers of the class are Paul McLarty, vice president, and Max Hall, secretary.

Miss Newman Weds John Brown Frazer.

The wedding of Miss Louise Elizabeth Newman to John Brown Frazer was quietly solemnized Wednesday afternoon in the study of the Grant Park Baptist church, the pastor, Rev. E. M. Altman, officiating. The ceremony was witnessed only by members of the immediate families.

The bride and bridegroom left for a trip to Signal Mountain, Tenn. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Newman. The groom is the son of the late Mrs. R. O. Turner, of Cedarhurst, and a graduate of Oglethorpe University and a member of Pi Kappa Phi fraternity.

Mrs. Tanner And Mr. Coleman Wed.
Mr. and Mrs. William J. Waldrup announce the marriage of their daughter, Mrs. Irene Pearl Tanner, to Bernard Hugh Coleman, the marriage being solemnized at the home of the Rev. Thomas B. Thrallkill, in East Atlanta, Tuesday evening.

J. T. Baker, of Sparta, Ga., officiating in the presence of relatives, friends and out-of-town guests. Miss Olive Willis, of Jefferson, Ga., played "Berceuse" from "Jocelyn" and Mendelssohn's wedding march was used for the processional, merging into the march from "Lohengrin" at the approach of the bride. "To a Wild Rose" was rendered during the ceremony. First to enter were Miss Austine Haralson, sister of the bride, Frank Cudger, of Chatsworth, Ga., cousin of the groom; Miss Marjorie Holder, of Jefferson, Ga., sister of the groom; Nathan Ayers, of Jefferson; Miss Irene Colwell, of Atlanta, Ga., cousin of the bride, and Frank Holder, Jr., of Jefferson, brother of the groom. The bridesmaids were dressed alike, in frocks of chiffon, fashioned with very long circular skirts, having circular ruffles around the bottom and long light waists with yokes and puffed sleeves of lace the same shade of the dresses. Large satin bows were fastened at the back of the waists, the streamers of which fell to the floor. They wore moire slippers dyed to match the dresses and large white kid gloves. Their flowers were pink roses and other pastel shaded summer flowers tied with tulle to match their gowns. Miss Haralson was in green, Miss Holder in orchid, and Miss Colwell in yellow.

Since we must wear clothes---

Allen's Hot Weather DRESSES

They are light in color, and in weight . . . they are sleeveless, or nearly so . . . and they are designed for wear during these breathless days, when dresses must be cool at all costs. The two sketched represent but one phase . . . the pretty, dainty, fluttery afternoon frock. On the left, a white, fragile thing of organdy and net . . . on the right, a white chiffon with pin dots of black, like diminutive periods! Others are slim and tailored and straight in line, of crepe and shantung . . . for general daytime and sports wear.

$16.75

SECKATARY HAWKINS

KEEP RUDE BACK THERE, HAWKINS.

WE HAD BEEN WATCHING LATE AT NIGHT ON THE ISLAND—WE HAD SEEN A BOAT LAND—A MAN HURRIED TO THE BANK—A FIGURE HAD LEAPED OUT OF THE BUSHES—RUDE MULLER'S DOG HAD GONE AFTER IT—AND DETECTIVE JACKSON HAD FOLLOWED.

Poor Old Pete!

PETE! DID YOU GET HIM, PETE?

BUT THERE WAS NO HOLDING RUDE BACK. YOU COULDN'T HOLD RUDE MULLER BACK WHERE HE HAD SENT HIS DOG TO "GET" WHAT WAS THERE. RUDE WAS FAIR AND SQUARE TO HIS DOG—JUST AS THE DOG WAS FAIR AND SQUARE TO HIM.

OH! PETE! LISTEN TO ME—PETE! LISTEN!

AND THEN RUDE SAW! HE SAW POOR OLD PETE, THE BEST DOG THAT EVER LIVED—HE SAW HIM STRETCHED OUT LIFELESS THERE ON THE GROUND BEFORE HIM—IN THE LIGHT FROM JACKSON'S TORCH. YET, PETE HAD GONE RIGHT ON IN.

COME ON, RUDE. THE DOG IS DEAD.

RUDE CRIED OVER HIM, LIKE ANYONE WOULD CRY OVER HIS BEST FRIEND. BUT WHAT WAS THE USE? PETE WAS DEAD. DEAD AS A DOORNAIL, KILLED BY THE STRANGE TERROR THAT HAD HAUNTED THIS ISLAND—THE THREE-EYED THING!

Little Miss Strickland Is Christened.

EAST POINT, Ga., June 26.—An interesting event of Sunday afternoon was the christening of little Margaret Cleo Strickland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Strickland, at their home on West Washington street, East Point. Rev. G. F. Venable, of the First Methodist church, performed the ceremony, in the presence of friends and relatives.

Preceding the ceremony, "To the Rising Sun" was played by Mrs. Howard Nix. The baby's godmothers were Mrs. H. C. Chambers, Mrs. G. L. Aderhold, and her godfathers were C. W. Butler and G. L. Aderhold. The home was beautifully decorated for several days. At first Jerry had thought this was due to crossness on her part. Being rather good-natured himself, he didn't mind and had promptly left every time Mrs. Muskrat had sent him away.

Miss Higdon Weds Oliver G. Rand.

CALVARY, Ga., June 26.—The wedding of Miss Sarah Margaret Higdon, of Calvary, Ga., and Oliver G. Rand, of Wilson, N. C., was solemnized Tuesday at noon in the Methodist church of Calvary. Rev. J. B. Wright, of Cairo, cousin of the bride, read the marriage service. The music was rendered by Mrs. S. A. Curry, of Cairo, and Miss Emily Barkley, of Adel, Ga., sang "You and I" and "At Dawning." The bride party consisted of the bride, Miss Sarah Margaret Higdon, and her bridesmaids, Mrs. W. B. Knight last week.

Mrs. H. G. Gregory went to Athens to attend the graduation exercises at the University of Georgia.

Mrs. B. G. Lane entertained 15 guests Friday in honor of her son, Richard, on his third birthday anniversary.

The ushers were Robert Higdon, of Quincy, Fla., and Thomas Higdon, of Quincy, Fla., brothers of the bride; L. W. Powell, of Havana, Fla., brother-in-law of the bride, and R. A. DeWolfe, of Cairo, Mrs. F. T. Searcy, of Clemson, S. C., sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and wore a model of green chiffon, having a long, full skirt with uneven hemline. The short coat and skirt were finished with a narrow cream lace, matching the hat and shoes, and carried an arm bouquet of pink radiance roses. Little Anne Powell, niece of the bride, wore a pink taffeta dress.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mr. Higdon, and they were joined at the altar by the groom and his best man, Parker Rand, of Raleigh, N. C. The bride's lovely dress of the bride was accentuated by a French model of powder blue georgette fashioned along princess lines, with long, full skirt and uneven hemline. The short coat of the same material had a large shoulder bow of navy blue taffeta. Her hat and shoes of navy further emphasized the contrasting shade of blue, and she carried a bouquet of pink radiance roses showered with valley lilies.

Mr. and Mrs. George Higdon, parents of the bride, entertained at luncheon at their home. Mr. and Mrs. Rand traveled by train, via Savannah, where they will sail for Portland, Maine, and will spend a month or more at resorts in the White mountains of Maine and New Hampshire.

The out-of-town guests were Mrs. Rand, of Smithfield, N. C.; Mr. and Mrs. Parker Rand, of Raleigh, N. C.; Mrs. F. T. Searcy, of Clemson, S. C.; Mrs. M. E. H. Rounton, of Havana, Fla.; Mrs. P. C. Barkley, of Quincy, Fla.; Mrs. E. A. Ragdale and children have returned from a two weeks' fishing trip to Burton lake.

Mr. and Mrs. George Christian and children have gone to Athens to visit Miss Addie Jarrett.

Miss Ruth Perry is spending two weeks in Baltimore and Washington, D. C.

Miss Marion Dixon, of Wilmington, N. C., is visiting Mrs. Charles Green and Miss Lula Bagwell.

Mrs. Anna Orr, J. C. Orr, Marie Jeanne Orr and Carlisle Vason visited in Quitman several days last week.

Mrs. Horace Riley and daughter, Patricia, of Chattanooga, Tenn., were recent visitors of Mrs. Allen DuPre.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Edwards spent the week-end in Canton.

Miss Sue Brett is visiting Miss May Culpepper, in Fayetteville, before returning to her home in Columbia, S. C.

Mrs. George Sparks and children are visiting in Elberton.

Mrs. H. H. Harrison, of Quitman, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Anna Orr.

Miss Jettie Bunn left last week for an extended trip to California and points of interest in the west.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Cannon entertained their bridge club Thursday evening. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Fred Couch, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Upchurch, Mr. and Mrs. N. D. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Bonnie Bice, Dr. and Mrs. George Christian, Mrs. W. N. Edge.

Jerry Muskrat didn't know just when his new family arrived in the snug home in the bank of the Smiling Pool. You see, Mrs. Muskrat had not allowed Jerry to come into the house for several days. At first Jerry had thought this was due to crossness on her part. Being rather good-natured himself, he didn't mind and had promptly left every time Mrs. Muskrat had sent him away.

Then one day as he crept up the long hall to see if Mrs. Muskrat was at home, he heard certain sounds that caused him to stop and hold his breath and listen. Then very, very softly he left by the way he had come. He had a queer feeling, did Jerry. When at last he reached the Big Rock at the Smiling Pool and climbed out of water, he looked back towards the entrance to his home with such a funny look on his face. "I do believe," said

Harold Lloyd Sued By Witwer's Widow

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 26.—(AP)—Trial of a $1,000,000 damage suit brought by Mrs. Sadie Witwer, widow of H. C. Witwer, author, against Harold Lloyd, film comedian, charging copyright infringement, was under way in federal court today.

Mrs. Witwer charged Lloyd's "The Freshman" was plagiarized from her husband's magazine story, "The Emancipation of Rodney."

William R. Fraser, general manager of the Harold Lloyd Corporation, yesterday told of introducing Witwer to Lloyd seven years ago and of hearing Witwer outline situations to the actor that he thought could be used in a picture.

Bobby Jones Paired With Jock Hutchison in National Open CRACKERS NOSE OUT PELS IN FINAL, 7 TO 6

By Ed Banforth

Quite a difference of opinion prevails among Southern league magnates as to how many votes will be necessary to precipitate a split season this year.

R. J. Spiller says six votes will be enough; "Quack" Smith, of Birmingham, says unanimous consent is required. The others side with one or the other view.

Since the memory of man runneth not to the contrary, Southern league club owners have been notoriously innocent of the constitution and by-laws of the Southern league, if, indeed, there is any such document.

It is quite probable, however, that whatever feelings the club owners have on the question now, they will do as John D. Martin advises. If President John says it will help attendance to stop playing July 1 and start all over again, it will be done forthwith.

If a fractional vote is necessary, a split season is a sure thing. It always is. Any club not within a game or two of first place is willing at any time to rub off the blackboard and start all over again.

LOSERS SQUAWKING.

The call for a split season sounds to the casual fan very much like a squawk from the club owners who did not happen to pick up a winning team.

It appears from the standings to date that there are seven pretty good average clubs and one poor one. The poor entry is Mobile. It has been wrecked by Owner Jimmy Hamilton, the Wild Man.

The Crackers in seventh place are not out of touch with first place and certainly within reach of the first division. No doubt one good pitcher would put them there in a few weeks.

A split season probably would have no effect on attendance. In fact, it would scarcely be noticed by fans.

What the league directors should do instead is to quell the Jimmy Hamilton uprising in Mobile. The man is making a huge joke out of the constituted authority of the league by deliberately wrecking a piece of league property.

HIS NOT TO REASON WHY.

Old George Godfrey, never a great fighter but undoubtedly better than the general run of heavyweights, long since has reached the end of his fighting opportunities. It was a sort of reward no doubt for past favors he had done the white folks that he was given the recent bout with Camnera.

So old George trained hard and got up enough power to make the fight look good for a while.

IF the white folks in Camnera's corner told the old colored man to foul out on signal he would not ask why.

Or IF the word came from his own handlers he would obey. His wants are simple and if he already owed his managers nearly all the purse for board and meals, he still will have enough to keep him in pork chops for a long time.

With such a situation prevailing anything might be the truth about the Camnera-Godfrey affair. The Pennsylvania commission is going through the motions of an investigation. They already have taxed old George half his purse. Whatever their final three-star findings may be, it cannot put a "blot" on the sport. You can't make a black spot on a blackboard.

THEN AND NOW.

"We always sent the janitor out after a five-gallon bucket of beer at 11 o'clock and frequent swigs of that from a tin dipper helped us get through the rest of the hot night until press time."—Line from a current newspaper novel.

For a young man just graduated from the college of journalism and in the midst of his first real newspaper experience he had been doing a lot of drinking.

It was bad enough for old-timers from the copy desk, the rewrite row, or the sports department, to guzzle a lot on the late watch, for their future was behind them.

But there was something pitiful in the effort of the collegian to keep up with (or down) with the veterans. They were drinking between every three-inch item that was phoned in from police station; they slipped away by twos and threes for another snort every time they finished reading a short piece of telegraph copy.

The collegian tried to be one of them—but his eyes already were glassy. He sat at his typewriter sideways, like the old-timers did, and gazed blankly at the keys.

It was a steaming hot night—the throbbing machinery on the floor above and the insistent radiation from the stereotype melting pots on the floor below made a torture chamber of the city room.

Moving like a man in a trance, the college boy finally pried himself from his chair and moved toward the corner where the star rewrite man was taking a last swig.

"There ain't any more, buddy," the rewrite man said in answer to the unasked question in the college boy's eyes. "I had the last drop. And you didn't miss much because, aside from having too few lemons and too little sugar and no ice to speak of, the lemonade Roy made tonight was just naturally no good."

Mystery Meeting Set At Memphis Today

Schedules are forged in the Southern association today with all eyes turned toward Memphis where something important is being cooked up, the die being thoroughly seasoned with the paprika of secrecy.

Mobile's sad, and case is supposed to come up for consideration along with the split season. Rell J. Spiller, Cracker representative on the board of directors, left Atlanta Thursday afternoon declaring that he knew nothing about the meeting other than that it had been called.

He did say, however, that he would support a measure asking for a split season in the league. As announced in The Constitution yesterday the Cracker president is eager to have such a measure put through.

No word could be obtained from the Cracker official as to how he would vote on the Mobile case if it comes up. Jimmy Hamilton, owner and manager, has embarrassed the league no little by wrecking his club and

BOBBY JONES AND HUTCHISON PLAY TOGETHER

Pairings Made for National Open Tourney July 10.

NEW YORK, June 26.—(AP)—Pairings of the 150 contestants who will seek to reduce Bobby Jones' golf titles to a mere two by taking his American open championship away from him were announced today by the United States Golf Association.

From 8:30 o'clock in the morning until 2:40 o'clock in the afternoon, Thursday and Friday, July 10 and 11, the best golfers in the United States will go, two and two, over the well-trapped and water-guarded course of the Inglewood Country Club, Minneapolis, Minn.

Pairings are announced only for the first two days, for the golf sheep will be separated from the goats after the first 36 holes and more than half the big field will have no part in events of Saturday, when 36 holes will be crowded into one crowded day with the champion emerging at the close unless there is a tie, as has been the case in four of the last five years.

The boys who start early Thursday will be led by Jack Burke, of the River Oaks Country Club, Houston, Texas, and Charley Hall, the long-driving pro from Birmingham, Ala., these southern stylists getting away on the stroke of 8:30.

The last pair to tee off Thursday will be Eddie Miller, of Gadenet, Ala., and Massie B. Miller, of Norwich, Conn.

FORMER CHAMP OFF.

Willie MacFarlane, the Tuckahoe, N. Y., pro, is the first former champion to see action. He goes out at 9:25 with F. S. Gallett, of Watertown, Wis.

Cyril Tolley, former British amateur champion, and the only British entry in the championship, is paired with George M. Smith, Lake Forest, Ill., leaving the first at 9:30 o'clock.

Horton Smith, playing for the first time in the open from his New Carleton, N. Y., club, has Ralph Beach, of Presville, Md., for a companion, the fireworks starting for them at 9:40.

THEN BOBBY JONES.

Just behind the transplanted Missouri pro will be Robert T. Jones, Jr., the defending champion, accompanied by the veteran Scot, Jock Hutchison. Bobby and Jock have the right of way at 9:45.

George Von Elm, carried in the entry list as representing the Rancho Golf Club, Los Angeles, although he lives at Detroit, plays with Jack Thompson, of Youngstown, Ohio, at 10 o'clock.

GOODMAN AT 10:45.

Job's Goodman, the man who beat Bobby Jones in the 1929 amateur championship, will strike some telling blows for Omaha in the company of Alex Ayton, of Springfield, at 10:45.

Johnny Farrell, with Herman Barron, Fort Chester, N. Y., will tee off at 11:05 and Leo Diegel and Chester C. Jones, a Lawrence (Kan.) amateur, are booked to follow five minutes later, and this pattern will be followed after a five-minute interval by "Long Jim" Barnes and Frank Rodia, of Seattle. Gene Sarazen and Dave Sutherland, Clayton, Mo., strike at 12:30.

ON THE AIR.

The welcome will be put on the air by the National Broadcasting Company. Atlanta's delegation will have a party in that for the delegation will be sent out in yachts to board the ship.

New York is preparing a welcome that is expected to reach the volume of the one accorded Commander Rich and Byrd. Atlanta's part will be watched with interest. It is hardly possible that Atlanta will neglect an opportunity to carry the welcome to Jones in New York.

DE PALMA TO FLY TO RACES HERE

Atlanta automobile racing fans will see seven and possibly nine drivers in action Sunday afternoon on the Atlanta Speedway who have participated in the annual 500-mile Indianapolis speedway races. George Hamilton, promoter of the races, announced Thursday, that 10 drivers are expected and several more are expected.

Ralph De Palma, who won the Indianapolis event in 1925 and who appeared here in 1927 on the old Hapeville track, heads the list of out-of-town drivers. Others include Babe Stapp, captain of the 1929 Duesenberg racing team; Chester Gardner, another member of the Duesenberg team; Johnny Seymour, of Indianapolis; Speed Gardner, of Pittsburgh, well-known race driver; Herman Schure, who made a great hit with local racing fans in two spring events, and Charley Crawford, of Chattanooga.

Winn, of Atlanta, another popular favorite with local racing fans, will drive the little No. 53 which he drove in the spring. Bob Robinson, of Benson Springs, who was ranked 20 last year by the A. A. A. racing board, is another of the entries already en route to Atlanta.

DePalma went Hamilton Thursday night that he will fly here from Marysville, Mich., and will land at 10 o'clock Saturday morning at Candler field. His car is expected to arrive in Atlanta today.

It's good by to all that above for Bobby Jones, the greatest golfer of them all, who is on his way home with the British open and amateur cups today. It was shortly after midnight, Atlanta time, that Bobby sailed for home. He is shown above practicing driving at Hoylake before his final round in the open. Note the typical English gallery.

JONES TO GET BIG RECEPTION

Special Leaves Monday for New York—Bobby Arrives Wednesday.

Breathes there a man with soul so dead, who not yet to himself has said, "Bobby Jones is coming home?"

The Atlanta about whom more superlatives have been written than any other man; who occupies more pages of athletic history than any other; who has won three major golf titles in four, is on the way home today.

CITY BUSY.

It is not surprising to find a bustle of activity in his home city, the city that is linked always with his name. Few cities are so fortunate as to own an ambassador such as Jones.

Two things they say are sure, death and taxes. The list must be increased to three, death, taxes and Bobby Jones. No other figure has ever so completely dominated a sport as the Atlanta who is homeward bound today.

Atlanta is bustling about preparing to welcome Bobby Jones when he docks at New York July 2. The Bobby Jones' welcome special will be a party in that for the delegation will be sent out in yachts to board the ship.

Bob Says Good-Bye to All That

Atlanta and Chattanooga, just a couple of other flops, have not been spared the horses in their efforts to get up there.

Not by any means. The Floppies of 1930 have used more than 100 ball players in their efforts to make baseball hay. And most of them have been just so much grist in the mill. And poor grist at that. Very poor.

Atlanta, according to the records, has looked at 52 ball players this season. And is still in seventh place.

Of the original 34 of the Florodors who started at Douglas, Ga., only six remain. They are Nick Dumovich, Red Oldham, Joe Keifer, Jack Sheehan, Jimmy Johnston and Sam Langford. The Lookouts in hiring and firing. Cousin Joe Engel has only seven of his original cast left on the payroll.

Joe's purchases run into serious money. The Chattanooga owner was out to finish in the first division. He allowed he would be up there at the finish or go bankrupt. And he has not spared the money. The savings banks haven't got any of it.

Joe, by his showmanship, has drawn 100,000 cash customers into his ball lot and is still a bit in the red. The Crackers haven't been able to go over in the black either. Their attendance hasn't been as fancy as that of the Chattanooga club and they have also gone into the purse here to late.

Now they want to try a split season.

The Crackers haven't made any bad guesses in releasing their men. Not a one of those let go has amounted to anything elsewhere, speaking of course in the light of baseball values.

Chattanooga has had one or two to go elsewhere and do well. Powell, a young outfielder, who was let go because he couldn't hit, is leading the Eastern league in batting. Mention of that is guaranteed to bring a sinister gleam to Joe Engel's face.

NINTH-INNING RALLY BRINGS WINNING RUNS

Dobbsmen Score Three Times in Final Frame To Beat New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, La., June 26.—Going into the ninth inning with the score 6 to 4 in their favor, the Pelicans, especially after getting two men on, conceded the five-game series to the Atlanta Crackers, to themselves by four games out of five. Then old Johnny Dobbs started a real sudden offensive, and the upshot of it was the Crackers scored three runs and snatched the game, 7 to 6.

Oscar Fuhr never seemed surer of a winning game than he did in that ninth. Thanks to a little late thinking by another left-handed pitcher, Oscar was given a little help in getting two men out. But his good fortune forsook him then and the game he thought he had won finally was charged as a defeat to him.

Johnny Dobbs sent Barrett in to hit for Ray Francis to start the "Crackers" ninth, and Barrett, a cripple, easily made second base on his mighty drive to right field. Dumovich went in to run for him and took third when Hilton Langford grounded out to Gardner. Sheehan then poked a grounder to DeRose and Dumovich, after jumping back on third, punted off before DeRose threw the ball and DeRose got him out between third and home.

That looked like curtains for the Crackers, but Rosenthal cracked a single to center and Sheehan, who had gone to second while Dumovich was on the run, scored. Jimmy Johnston then advanced a single to left, sending Rosenthal to third, and the game was lifted in favor of Leslie Barnhart, young right-hander. Whereupon Johnny Dobbs sent Carley in to hit for "Mule" Shirley, an Oxford pitcher. Carley, a left-handed pitcher, cut loose a wild pitch, Johnston going from first to second, while Roy held third.

CARLEY PASSED.

Carley was intentionally passed then and Bob Lamotte lifted a high fly which fell safely back of short. Rosenthal, a left-handed batter, scored a peg by Blakesley caught Carley going to third.

Messenger, who pitched the last inning for the Crackers, held them in line, though Zels Bonura, hitting for Barnhart, singled after one was out. Montague and Powers flied out.

Francis and Fuhr had staged a fairly interesting left-handed duel, with Francis allowing fewer hits but Fuhr yielding fewer runs. The Pels, in the eighth, scored a sacrifice hit with two bases on balls in the first inning and took a lead by scoring two runs. In their second the Crackers caught back one of those tallies on a trip by Shirley and a single by Lamotte.

U. S. STARS WIN AT WIMBLEDON

Americans Rule in Battle for Championship in Various Classes.

By Wallace C. Carroll.

United News Staff Writer.

WIMBLEDON, England, June 26. (UN)—The performance today of American men's and women's doubles combinations made the United States the favorite to capture the major share of honors in the Wimbledon tennis championship.

In addition to being given an even chance to win the men's singles in which five Americans are included among the final 16 survivors, the United States is favored to win both the men's and women's doubles, while the German-American team—Bill Tilden and F. J. Crawford—were charged to lead the women's singles.

American players won 10 of the 13 matches played today, with the invading Davis cuppers making a clean sweep of their matches. The defeated pair of John Doe and George Lett defeated F. R. L. Crawford and G. E. M. D. St. Louis, 6-4, 6-4, 6-4.

Results of the other matches played by Americans were:

Men's Doubles—First Round: Wilmer Allison and John Van Ryn defeated E. C. MacArthur and A. W. Vinnai, England, 6-2, 6-3, 6-4.

Second Round: Wilmer Allison and John Van Ryn defeated E. C. MacArthur and A. W. Vinnai, England, 6-2, 6-3, 6-4.

Women's Doubles—First Round: Helen Wills Moody and Miss Elizabeth Ryan defeated Miss Mary Stanger, England, 6-3, 6-0; Miss Elizabeth Ryan defeated Miss. Joanne Stanger, England, 6-4, 6-2.

Second Round: Helen Wills Moody and Miss Elizabeth Ryan defeated Miss Mary Stanger, England, 6-3, 6-0; Miss Elizabeth Ryan defeated Miss. Joanne Stanger, England, 6-4, 6-2.

Women's Singles—Helen Jacobs defeated Miss Mary Stanger, England, 6-3, 6-0; Miss Elizabeth Ryan defeated Miss. Joanne Stanger, England, 6-4, 6-2.

Second Round: Helen Jacobs defeated Miss Mary Stanger, England, 6-3, 6-0; Miss Elizabeth Ryan defeated Miss. Joanne Stanger, England, 6-4, 6-2.

Jack Mooney Is Beaten in Semi-Finals of Tennis Tournament

LEFTY BRYAN SCORES UPSET AT ANNISTON

Defending Champion Loses After Hard Struggle—His First Defeat.

ANNISTON, Ala., June 26.—(AP)—In the first major upset of the annual Cotton States tennis tournament here, Jack Mooney, defending champion from Atlanta, was eliminated today in the semi-finals of the senior singles by Robert Bryan, of Chattanooga, after a terrific five-set struggle. The scores were 2-6, 6-3, 9-7, 4-6 and 6-4.

Tomorrow afternoon the southpaw from Chattanooga meets the winner of the semi-final match between Wilmer Hines, of Columbia, S. C., and J. C. Frier, of Tusculum, Ala., for the Cotton States singles crown. A near torrential rain, which broke shortly after the conclusion of the first semi-final match, halted the Hines-Frier contest after three sets had been completed. At that time the Columbia flash led, 6-3, 4-6, 6-0. The match will be continued tomorrow morning.

The rain also served to postpone the semi-final senior doubles match between Hines and "Judge" Beaver, of Gainesville, Ga., and Alden Simpson and L. A. Brooks, of Birmingham.

ATLANTANS WIN.
The semi-final match in the top bracket was held this morning and Mooney and George Boynton, of Atlanta, seeded No. 1 team, defeated Bryan and Ed Newell, of Chattanooga, in straight sets, 6-0, 6-4.

Brooks and Simpson slipped through both third-round and quarter-final doubles matches, then morning, beating Red Godwin and Peyton Lacy, of Anniston, 6-0, 6-3, and winning from C. M. Boyer and J. C. Miller, of Birmingham, 6-2, 6-1.

In addition to the senior singles and doubles, semi-finals of the junior singles will be played. Unless good weather holds over through the day the senior doubles championship probably will be set off until Saturday.

Boynton breezed through to the finals of the junior singles after a five-set battle with Robert Stewart, of Pensacola, Fla., 3-6, 6-1, 6-3, 6-4. He will meet Beaver, of Gainesville, Fla., who won over Godwin, of Anniston, 6-1, 6-0.

STEWART LOSSES.
In a singles quarter-final match this morning, Free defeated Stewart in straight sets 8-6, 6-1.

The Mooney-Bryan morning match was a thriller. Last year the pair met in the championship contest and Mooney won after five sets of hard playing. After Bryan had set point within his reach.

Today, it seemed as though a repetition of last year's result would take place, until Bryan suddenly tightened with the score four-ten in the last set and won the final two games with breath-taking rapidity to push his old rival and advance to the title round. Mooney was off to a good start and toyed with Bryan to win easily 6-2. The 17-year-old southpaw from Tennessee settled down and won the next two sets after a series of hectic games, 6-3, 6-7.

MOONEY REVIVED.
Following a short intermission, Mooney seemed revived and raced through the fourth set to win 6-4, but the final set saw both players fighting for each point and practically every game went to deuce before it was decided. Neither could gain more than one game advantage until the score stood four-ten. Then Bryan steered himself for a final drive and swept through two hard games to the victory.

Mooney's elimination marked the first time in six years that he had not reached the final of the won the cotton states singles championship.

PHILADELPHIA, June 26.—Sam Gray was sent for his mid-summer vacation today as the Athletics beat the St. Louis Browns in the opening game of a four-game series here by a score of 8 to 3.

The Athletics pounded Gray for 18 hits, eight of which were for extra bases. The St. Louis bullpen was counted in the sixth inning when Bishop and Gehring doubled. Simmons tripled and Fox hit his 10th home run of the year. This demonstration shot the champions ahead for the balance of the game.

SENIORS ROUT TIGERS.
WASHINGTON, June 26.—The Nationals took advantage of every break today and battered two Detroit pitchers for a total of 10 runs, 10 hits and 10 errors.

Joe Judge, who has been out on account of a sore arm, returned to the game at first base, and in a run and made two hits.

Whitehall lasted one-third of the first inning and during that period Washington could find no fault with Herring, who took the Nationals had scored seven runs.

Marberry was sixteenth in the pinches and although hit safely 10 times kept the hits well scattered.

YANKEES WIN OPENER.
NEW YORK, June 26.—The Yankees presented Herb Pennock with his seventh victory today as they won the opener of the season today by defeating the Cleveland Indians by a score of 10 to 1.

Pennock was unsteady at times and finally was removed in the eighth inning, but the Yankees had piled up too big a lead for Cleveland to overcome. Five of the seven runs scored by the Yankees were the result of errors by the Indians.

Tommy Langer was one better in the fourth inning last after New York's lead was 10 to 1.

DONALD CRAM, ROUGH RICHARD SUTTER ENTER LOOKS GREAT BEATING MILO

Dixie Tennis Stars Win in Intercollegiate Tourney.

HAVERFORD, Pa., June 26.—(AP)—At the expense of two Pacific coast players, the south took the lead today in the National Intercollegiate Singles tennis championship by sending two men into the semi-final round.

The two men from below the Mason and Dixon line are Clifford Sutter, of Tulane University, and Donald Cram, of Vanderbilt. Both are in the lower half of the draw, precluding an all-southern final.

The eastern player and one Californian moved into the semi-finals in the upper half of the draw. They are Julius Seligson, of Lehigh University, Intercollegiate Singles champion two years ago and top seeded player in the current tourney, and Dolf Muehlen, of the University of California, Berkeley.

SEKED STAR OUT.
The one seeded player to be brushed out of the picture today was Eddie Jacobs, the southpaw from Pittsburgh University, who was eliminated by Muehlen, 6-3, 6-5.

Sutter advanced to the semi-finals by scoring a closely fought 6-4, 6-3 victory over Sherman Lockwood, of the University of Oregon, the first of the four far westerners to be vanquished.

Cram was a veritable tornado in triumphing over Clifford Robbins, of the University of California, Los Angeles, 6-1, 6-1.

Seligson moved ahead by conquering Elbert Lewis, of the University of California, Los Angeles, and Pacific Coast Intercollegiate champion, 6-3, 6-1.

OUTSTANDING.
The playing of Cram and Muehlen was particularly outstanding. Cram's strokes were functioning with uncanny accuracy. His drives off the fore and back-hand raked the court and Robbins was never able to take the ball.

Cram displayed a service that left the Californian flat-footed. His game appeared to have no holes and his pace seemed to be fast enough to force any player to the limit.

There was little to choose between Lockwood and Sutter but the Tulane youth had better control and broke through in the 10th game of the first set to win 6-4. Lockwood appeared to be more dangerous in the second set, but Sutter broke through in the second and fourth and won the match after alternating service victories, 6-5.

In the semi-finals tomorrow Seligson meets Muehlen in the upper half of the draw while Cram clashes with Sutter in the lower half.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal. June 26.
There are more big league baseball scouts haunting Pacific coast ball clubs than there are likely looking prospects.

Success of such recent coast graduates as Gus Suhr, Smead Jolley, Earl Averill, Vernon Gomez and Roy Johnson has brought out hordes of ball timber sleuths.

GIANTS RUN WILD.
ST. LOUIS, June 26.—The New York Giants ran wild against the Cardinals today while Clarence Mitchell held his former teammates under control and New York won the first game of the series, 12 to 4.

Every Giant got one or more hits in the total of 20 collected in the first game. Clete and Leach made four apiece, while Mel Ott contributed a home run. The Giants scored in every inning but the ninth, when Mel held them off.

Mitchell was in trouble only in the eighth when four hits and an error gave St. Louis three runs. N. Y. Giants ab.h.p.a. ab.h.p.a.

CHICAGO. June 26.—(AP)—Kane saw Mountain Landis may be faced with a rebellion within the ranks, but he kept right on waving his big stick.

The latest decision of the baseball commissioner is to declare Edwin Moore, suspended second baseman for the Baltimore Orioles, a free agent.

Moore was suspended when he refused to report to Buffalo of the International league on a player deal. He complained to Landis, exhibiting a signed contract in which the Orioles agreed to make him a free agent if he did not send him to a club of higher classification. Despite much protesting by Baltimore, the commissioner held for Moore.

The action of the Milwaukee club of the American association in filing suit in federal court to halt Landis' transfer order on Fred Bennett, a Milwaukee outfielder, is pending.

GALLANT FOX DEFENDS TITLE ON SATURDAY

Three-Year-Old Champion Meets Whichone at Aqueduct.

NEW YORK, June 26.—(AP)—Gallant Fox and Whichone—the natural of the 1930 turf season—will meet again Saturday in what promises to be nothing more than another opportunity for the Fox to recapture his claim to the three-year-old championship.

The occasion for the second meeting of the two outstanding three-year-olds of the year will be the Dwyer stakes at Aqueduct, run over one and a half miles—the same distance at which William Woodward's star defeated the Harry Payne Whitney ace by four lengths in the Belmont stakes at Belmont Park two weeks ago.

Earl Sande, recovering from a twisted ankle, will be aboard the son of Sir Gallant III to keep the combination that won the Freehanded, Kentucky Derby and Belmont intact.

Whichone will be Linus (Pony) McEate, replacing Sonny Workman, the east's ranking jockey of 1930, who has ridden Whichone in his past races. The change is an experiment.

Whereas Whichone was the 3-to-5 favorite, when the pair met at Belmont Park, Gallant Fox will get 1 to 1 in the post the public choice Saturday at approximately the same odds.

PHILLIP FINLAY WINS TO ENTER SEMI-FINALS

Alabama Goes Down
After Great Battle at Oakmont.

By Brian Bell,

OAKMONT, Pa., June 26.—(AP)—East and west will meet tomorrow in the 36-hole semi-final round of the intercollegiate golf championship when Phillip Finlay, of Harvard, plays Larry Moller, of Notre Dame, and George Dunlap, of Princeton, clashes with Winston Fuller, of Southern California.

The quarter-final matches at 26 holes today produced some good golf and exciting finishes, especially in the upper bracket where Finlay defeated Sam Perry of Alabama, 2 up and 1 to play, and Moller defeated Marshall Forrest, of Yale, runner-up in the last championship, by the same score.

NARROW ESCAPE.

The margins were greater in the lower bracket, Fuller defeating Charles H. Eaton, of Harvard, 4 and 3, and Dunlap eliminating Sam Parks, of the University of Pittsburgh, 3 and 2, but the competition was keen throughout.

Notre Dame captain and newly elected president of the Intercollegiate Golf Association of America, suffered a narrow escape from possible serious injury when lightning struck an umbrella he was holding during the afternoon round.

For a time Moller reported that his arm was numb, but the feeling of paralysis soon abated and after a few holes he was himself again.

Finlay and Perry fought out a great match. They were square after 18 holes and there was no advantage at the end of 27. The deciding hole of the contest gave Finlay a chance to make one of the great shots of his career. He was 2 up going to the 17th and needed only a half to close out the brilliant Alabama. To get his half he pitched the ball from bad rough over a series of wicked traps squarely on the green. Perry's long game was brilliant but he was loose around the greens.

MOLLER TWO UP.
Moller went to luncheon 2 up over Forrest and gave the Yale captain plenty of chances to wipe out the advantage, but Forrest was badly off his best form.

Fuller had the better of Eaton from the start, although the Harvard man rallied in the afternoon to cut down the six-hole advantage Fuller enjoyed at luncheon.

Dunlap's fine game close to the greens proved too much for parks whose play was unsteady at times, especially with his wood shots.

FRENCH RING RISES.
The fight game in France is enjoying unusual prosperity this year. Even the smaller cities have packed houses weekly.

Mystery Meeting Set At Memphis Today

Split Season and Mobile Case Thought Up But Martin Is Silent.

before the board for discussion and action.

In advance of the meeting, I have no further announcement to make. While league headquarters remained uninformative, the president holding that advance information might be erroneous and hampering sports writers and guessers speculated that the directors may:

Consider the mauling engulfing Jimmy Hamilton and his lagging Mobile club, which has been forbidden to transfer to Knoxville and which, reports have it, he wants to sell at a figure that finds few takers.

Consider renewed proposals for a split season.

Consider proposals for night baseball.

So far as official information went, that was all guessing. The forecasts found substantiation, however, in the fact that the Mobile situation particularly has been worrying league moguls for some time.

The belief prevails that they want to dispose of the whole thing. The split season and night baseball involve constitutional changes which possibly would require unanimous consent to bring up in mid-season. Both proposals are known to have opponents.

Colonels Running Like Gallant Fox

CHICAGO, June 26.—(AP)—Louisville's Colonels must have taken a tip from Gallant Fox. They are running away with the American Association baseball derby.

Today, with the half-way mark not yet in sight, they were galloping along eight full games ahead of the field led by the slipping Saints from St. Paul. Their lead was so conclusive that Thomas Jefferson Hickey, president of the circuit, has hurriedly called a meeting of all club owners for July 1 to decide whether it would be better to have a split season next year. No race means poor receipts in baseball and notably in Hickey's circuit.

Madison Square Garden Pledges Public Run for Its Money

FOUL PROBLEM NOT EASY ONE TO WIPE OUT

Three Solutions Offered by Bruen—Fine Not Deemed Sufficient.

By Frank Getty.
United News Sports Editor.
NEW YORK, June 26.—(UN)—Madison Square Garden, the corporation of "600" millionaires which dominates boxing in New York and controls the heavyweight situation throughout the world, promised today to co-operate in a movement to stamp out the foul evil and "give the public a run for its money."

Frank Bruen, vice president of the Garden in charge of boxing, told the United News that his organization agreed there was need of immediate action to end the veritable epidemic of fouls such as have ended many recent boxing bouts.

NOT EASY.
"The problem is no easy one," Bruen pointed out. "For almost every proposed solution there are several valid objections. But the public deserves a run for its money, and we'll just have to figure out some way to make fighters stop hitting low or claiming fouls."

Pointing out that the proposal to issue "foul checks" good for another bout between the principals in case one was fouled, was impractical, Bruen offered the following suggestion:

1. Require boxers to wear sufficient protection so that no blow, however delivered, could incapacitate them for long;
2. In case of a low blow disabling one boxer temporarily, assist him to his dressing room and put on a preliminary bout, allowing the stricken fighter 20 minutes or so to recover;
3. Penalize severely any boxer who repeatedly strikes low blows; bar for life a fighter who deliberately fights foul.

BARRED EVERYWHERE.

Well-known as the manager of a number of prominent race tracks, Bruen pointed out that on the turf a jockey convicted of foul riding was barred everywhere by agreement among the various jockey clubs. Bruen said he did not believe that fining a boxer was sufficient deterrent to the prevailing foul evil which is rapidly giving boxing bad name and alienating the sympathies of the cash customers upon whom it depends for its very existence. But he does feel that barring a man who commits a foul for a sufficiently long time to make it hurt might help.

SPEAKER QUILTS AS MANAGER

NEWARK, N. J., June 26.—(AP)—Tris Speaker, manager of the Newark Bears, announced his resignation today. His successor has not yet been chosen.

Speaker's resignation was received by the management of the club to become effective immediately. He gave out the following statement:

"At a conference with executives of Newark Baseball Club today it agreed that a change in management might be beneficial so I have made arrangements to leave the club. If I had desired I could have remained."

Jack Onslow, coach, has been put in active charge of the team until a new manager is decided upon.

This was Speaker's second year as manager of the International league club, which has lost 38 games and won 28.

Yankee Girl Wins Schooner Event

BERMUDA, June 26.—(AP)—G. W. Warren's New York owned schooner, Yankee Girl, was the first of the fleet of boats that set sail from New London last Sunday in the 600-mile race to Bermuda to cross the finish line today. The schooner Wame, the scratch boat of the race and owned by J. D. Thompson, of White Plains, was second, with J. G. Alden's Boston schooner, Malabar X, third.

JIM THE CONQUEROR

By PETER B. KYNE

FIFTH INSTALLMENT.

"Well, Mexicans, of whatever class, are very polite to a lady. They always make a great to-do about women. The chances are this Higuera is an educated half-breed Aztec Indian."

"I don't believe it," Roberta declared with conviction. "I'm sure he's pure Castilian and most delightful."

"Probably older than Cortez," Crooked Bill hazarded.

"Nonsense, Uncle Bill. He's young. Of course he is. There's a note of careless youth in this telegram, and I'm surprised that you have overlooked it. He is very handsome, with raven-black hair and white teeth; he is about six feet tall, has small hands and feet, and sings and plays the guitar under ladies' windows. When he greets a lady he bows over her hand and kisses it, oh, so lightly and respectfully! I adore men like that."

Glenn Hackett fidgeted uncomfortably. He knew he was under fire, but from ambush. However, he decided to try a chance shot. "If he should ever meet you, Bobby, he would undoubtedly fall in love with you. And of course you'd take him on, for the mere joy of the conquest, and when he awakened to the true state of affairs he would turn to hatred and he'd tuck you away in the local cemetery with your late Uncle Tom."

"That's right, Hackett. A girl can't play fast and loose with her Mexican sweetheart. They have their women trained down there and lead them in the way they should go, so that Higuera has informed us who killed Cook Robin. He merely says it was a cowman."

"I wonder if he got hurt?" Roberta murmured.

"Does it matter particularly?" For a reason he had not even tried to analyze, but which had been born of a subconscious resentment of the perfect Jaime Miguel Higuera into Roberta Antrim's thoughts, Glenn Hackett spoke.

Ten thousand cunning lips peeped for an instant from Crooked Bill's eyes. "No, he didn't get hurt—at least, not very badly."

"How do you know?" Hackett demanded, and Roberta looked at her uncle inquiringly.

"I don't know. I just feel it, but I never tell you that I am the seventh son of a seventh son and that I was born with a veil!"

No, you did not, and this is the first I have heard of it," Roberta challenged, "I believe you know Jaime Miguel Higuera."

"I couldn't make an affidavit to that, Roberta. I cannot recall having met him or even heard of him, so help me!"

"You're somewhat mysterious."

"That's why he's called Crooked Bill," Hackett informed her.

"I'm not at all mysterious," the old rascal protested.

"I know you're not, Uncle Bill. You're perfectly obvious, but you adore appearing mysterious."

And just then the butler entered to announce dinner.

"Better reconsider your decision and break bread with us," Crooked Bill urged their guest.

"Yes, do," Roberta pleaded.

"Thank you, I think I shall not."

"Harms, will you be good enough to get my hat and coat and telephone the garage for my car?"

When Glenn Hackett's car had rolled away down the driveway, Crooked Bill turned to his ward. "Round for little Bright-eyes. I'm placing my money on the red."

"Who," the girl demanded firmly, "is Jaime Miguel Higuera?"

"I don't know, honey. I can only suspect, and some day I'll verify my suspicions and tell you."

"Please tell me your suspicions now."

There's a dear," and Roberta smiled at her mother's cooing smile and put her arms around Crooked Bill's neck.

"Ah," he murmured, "a man can struggle along under a mystery but it drives a woman crazy. A moment ago you stated I adore being mysterious. Honey, I'm an old man with only you and my love of appearing mysterious making life worth the living, so I'll not tell you what I suspect and you are perfectly powerless to drag it out of me. Moreover, you're created that boy scandalously, because he's much too fine a young fellow to be accorded the same treatment the sprays of sweet clover you've been accustomed to have received at your hands."

"Don't scold," Roberta pleaded.

"Then don't try to pry out of me things I cannot tell you."

"For two cents," Roberta threatened, "I'd go down to Los Algodones and investigate Jaime Miguel Higuera personally."

"If you do, you'll get the surprise of your sweet young life, my dear."

Roberta's brown eyes danced. Nobody knew better than Crooked Bill how she cherished surprises. Figuratively speaking she would swim a muddy river if a surprise awaited her on the opposite shore.

"I think I should go down to Uncle Tom's funeral," she suggested.

"I'm the last of the Antinians and I would be rather indecent of me to permit strangers—and not very sympathetic strangers, I fear—to bury him."

Crooked Bill was always practical, even if mysterious. "I wouldn't do that, honey. I'm afraid Uncle Tom won't keep until you get there. I have never heard of ice or undertakers in Los Algodones, and as for hermetically sealed caskets, there just aren't any. I have a friend down there, however, and I'll wire him to attend the obsequies and send flowers for you and a wreath of cactus for me."

"Why have you always disliked Uncle Tom?"

"Because you're his niece, not mine, and he's never showed the slightest interest in you, except to send you five dollars at Christmas and on your birthdays; because I and on your birthdays; because I and the unholy wretch in the cow business and he sold out the cows, refused to pay the loan, went to Mexico where I couldn't collect and set up in the sheep business; because he was ornery from birth and looked it; because, from the day I married your aunt until the day of her death Uncle Tom grafted off me on the strength of the fact that I was a relative-in-law; because it was his nature to approach every proposition in life from the rear; because, never from the front. My father was not what I would call a mental giant, Roberta, but he was kind and amusing and on the sheep business; because Uncle Tom was a throwback, a black sheep."

"Every family has them," the girl defended.

"Well, honey, you haven't yours any more!"

The following evening Glenn Hackett, having recovered manfully from his indisposition of the day before, called for dinner. The bank gives the man Higuera most flattering recommendations, Mr. Latham, he announced. "He has plenty of cash and worldly assets and his record is clean. He is known as a man of honor and can be trusted implicitly."

Crooked Bill nodded, as if this report was not a matter of surprise to him. Hackett resumed:

"I cannot go to Los Algodones to attend to this matter of yours, Roberta. It will be necessary to engage a lawyer down there to handle your affairs there, and I suppose Higuera can direct you to a good one. I imagine you will have to proceed to Los Algodones immediately, and I suggest that when you do, you provide yourself with a birth certificate and affidavits proving your relationship to the deceased."

"The girl shall start tomorrow," Roberta decided, and added maliciously: "I can hardly wait to meet that adorable Jaime Miguel Higuera!"

TARZAN AND THE JEWELS OF OPAR No. 89

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Suddenly Werper threw himself to one side to the floor of the tent, leaving a leg extended in the path of the Arab. The trick succeeded. Mohammed Beyd, carried on by the momentum of his charge, stumbled over the protruding obstacle and crashed to the ground. Instantly he was up again and wheeling to renew the battle; but Werper was on foot ahead of him and now his revolver, loosened from his holster, flashed in his hand. The Arab dove headfirst to grapple with him. There was a sharp report and a lurid gleam in the darkness.

Mohammed Beyd rolled over and over upon the floor to come to a final rest beside the cot of Jane Clayton. Almost immediately following the report came the sound of excited voices in the camp without. Werper could hear people running hither and thither investigating. But when he looked for the woman she was not there. During the frenzy of the death duel she had arisen, passed around the struggling pair, cautiously made her way out through the tent's entrance and vanished into the silent watches of the jungle night.

Tarzan of the Apes was in a quandary. Idly he played with the pebbles from his recovered pouch. His thoughts returned to the pile of ivory ingots about which the Arabs and the Abyssinians had waged their relentless battle. What was there in connection between that pile of dirty metal and the beautiful, sparkling pebbles that had formerly been in his pouch? Some half-tantalizing memory connected them in his addled brain but it was all so vague. Only the scenes of his apish childhood rose clear before his mind.

Slowly and painfully recollection was attempting to reassert itself, the hurt brain was mending by the healing processes of perfect circulation. The people who now passed before his mind's eye for the first time in weeks were familiar faces; yet he could not place them in their proper niches or call them by name. One was a fair "abe." What had he been to him? For an instant he seemed to grasp the whole of the true explanation and then the picture faded into a jumbled scene where a naked white boy danced with a band of hairy apes-things.

Mrs. Gertrude Gibson, Oral Hygienist, Dies

Mrs. Gertrude Gibson, 25, oral hygienist in the city health department, died at Grady hospital early Thursday morning after a two months' illness. During that period of time she underwent five operations.

Mrs. Gibson, wife of Robert M. Gibson, lived at 181 Forrest avenue and was the sister-in-law of Walker T. Lee, former secretary of Mayor James L. Key. She had been in the employ of the city for six years, three of them in the capacity of oral hygienist. She was a member of the Atlanta Dental Society and took an active part in the affairs of the Moreland Avenue Baptist church.

She is survived by her husband, a son, R. M. Gibson, Jr.; her mother, Mrs. Gussie Walker; two sisters, Mrs. Walker T. Lee and Mrs. H. L. Sibley; and one brother, Albert Walker. Funeral services will be held at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon from Spring Hill with the Rev. T. T. Davis officiating. Interment will be in Greenwood cemetery.

Leo Cary Bean Dies After Brief Illness

Leo Cary Bean, 38, 788 Greenwood avenue, died after a brief illness Thursday night. He was a former purchasing agent for the Veterans' hospital of Atlanta and during the World War was stationed at Camp Gordon and attached to the quartermaster corps.

Mr. Bean is survived by his widow and three sisters, Mrs. J. A. May, of Memphis, Tenn.; Mrs. J. E. Stovall, of Henderson, Tenn.; and Mrs. W. V. Carter, of Union City, Tenn. He was a member of the Atlanta post of the American Legion, of Union City, Tenn.; Elks' lodge and the Church of Christ, of the same city, and of the Masonic lodge of Rivers, Tenn.

The body was removed to the undertaking parlors of Ed Bond & Condon, from which establishment funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Harry C. Stutz Dies Following Operation

Well-Known Automobile Manufacturer Was 53 Years Old.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 26.—(AP)—Harry C. Stutz, widely-known automobile designer and manufacturer, died here today from complications which followed an operation for appendicitis. He was 53 years old.

Stutz came to Indianapolis Monday afternoon from Orlando, Fla., where he had been making his home for the last five years, and entered a hospital. After an operation he appeared to be doing well until infection set in and caused his death.

Inventions which improved rear axles of automobiles won Stutz his first recognition in automotive circles. He entered a car bearing his name in the first 500-mile race here in 1911 and it finished 11th. As a result it became known as the "car that made good in a day" bringing with it fame and fortune to the builder.

Funeral services will be held in Indianapolis, probably Saturday, Mr. Stutz was married twice, the first time to Miss Clara Dietz, of Dayton, Ohio, in 1908. They were divorced five years ago he married Mrs. Blanche Miller of Indianapolis.

The widow and a daughter, Mrs. William S. Horn, Indianapolis, survive. Stutz resigned from the company bearing his name about a year before

Snake Bite Victim Treated at Grady

Joseph Warren, 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. P. Warren, Route 2, Smyrna, was taken to Grady hospital Thursday afternoon after the bite of a snake which struck the boy while he was playing barefoot near his home.

The child was rolling a small wagon near his home shortly after noon Thursday when a snake which he could describe only as a "large red one" struck his right foot. Physicians had the boy under observation Thursday night and despite the fact that his foot was swollen to twice its normal size, they were of the opinion that his condition was not serious.
